Russian Diplomat To Leave For United States Soon

OFFICIALS IN SOVIET JUBILANT

News of Negotiations Looking to Recognition is Cause for Celebration TO DEVELOP TRADE

American Business Heads Are Highly Satisfied at Action in Washington

MOSCOW, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Russia displayed uncontrolled jubilation today at the prospect of recognition by the United States, and regarded the exchange of letters between President Roosevelt and President Kalinin as the most important event in its recent history.

Officials were openly enthusiastic, in contrast to their usual reserve. Popular sentiment was apparent everywhere. In streets, street cars and in shops—wherever the ordinary people gathered, the prospect of recognition was the only topic for talk.

The news dominated the front pages of newspapers and evoked comment throughout the country. Officials said that Maxim Litvinov, brilliant foreign minister, would leave within a very few days for Washington to conduct the negotiations.

Soviet Russia, in agreeing to negotiate outstanding problems with the United States before formal recognition, has made a concession that marks a new stage in its foreign policy, it was emphasized today.

Heretofore, fearing rebuffs that would dim its prestige, the Russian government has insisted that formal recognition by world power precede negotiations on claims, trade, propaganda activities and other problems.

President Mikhail Kalinin's letter answering President Roosevelt's offer of negotiations made it plain that Russia in the United States' case departed entirely from the policy of prior recognition.

From Russia's viewpoint the concession is one of great moment, an indication of its desire in the present critical stage of world politics to consolidate relations with the last great power to hold aloof.

Powerful impetus will be given to the development of Soviet-United States trade by recognition. The Industrial Gazette said today in an article dealing with the question.

"Discussing import plans in connection with the Platekale (second five year plan)," the Industrial Gazette says, "Economic circles are naturally expecting results from the Washington negotiations such as will give a powerful impetus to the United States trade with the United States."

"It is necessary to state frankly that present proportions of trade volume are dwarfish compared with the potentialities."

The prerequisites for an extensive economic rapprochement exist in the opinion of the newspaper, economic life, and "only artificial barriers have heretofore been the obstacles to that rapprochement."

ROOSEVELT SEES NATIONAL RECOVERY INSIDE 5 YEARS

SENATE GROUP MAY QUESTION RFC DIRECTOR

Uncover Letter Written by Harvey Couch to Head of Chase National

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(UP)—A letter purporting to have been signed by Harvey C. Couch, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, relating to transactions in securities of the Seaboard Airline railroad, may lead Couch to the witness chair in the senate stock market investigation of the Chase National bank, the United Press learned today.

The letter found by senate investigators was said to be written on stationery of the RFC. It was addressed to C. W. McLean, chairman of the board of the Chase bank and referred to previously undisclosed discussions of transactions in Seaboard securities.

The United Press asked Couch by telephone whether he had written such a letter and whether he desired to appear before the committee to discuss the transactions to which it referred. He denied knowledge of the communication.

"I haven't written a letter and I haven't anything to say," Couch said. "I don't know anything about it."

Couch was one of scores whose names appeared on so-called bargain or selected stock lists of J. P. Morgan and Co.

The Seaboard securities to which the letter referred slumped with collapse of the market and now are in default. During the Dillon, Read and Co., investigation Couch was revealed as having borrowed $300,000 from the bank on Jan. 16, 1928, and as of Dec. 31, 1931 still owed $150,000.

The inquiry was in recess today in the midst of Albert H. Wiggin's testimony of how he participated in syndicates or pools to pass his Chase bank stock on to the public. He was head of the bank during the operation of these trading accounts. Investigation of his personal financial operations will be interrupted Monday by inquiry into Cuban loans by the Chase National bank.

FORMER SECRETARY TO ROLPH IN SUIT

MARION, Ind., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Mrs. Betty Gerke Lindley, 30, former secretary of Gov. James R. Rolph Jr., of California, filed suit in Grant county circuit court today for annulment of her marriage to Lee R. Lindley, 57-year-old Marion manufacturer.

In addition to the annulment Mrs. Lindley asks a cash settlement of $30,000 plus $2500 attorney fees.

The couple was married in Chicago, May 12, 1933, after an airplane flight from California.

Mrs. Lindley charged that she was tricked into the marriage and that their marriage contract was based on false representation.

She said her husband promised her $5000 immediately after the marriage and $1000 a year thereafter but that he never paid the money and had no intention of doing so.

Cop Gets This Brand New Quick Action

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Pat Terrant, 26, brand-new special policeman, displayed a brand-new badge and a brand-new gun on his rounds today.

He saw a suspicious character lurking in a doorway and shouted: "Hands up."

"Why?" replied the suspect. Before Pat could find an answer, the stranger had the brand-new gun and Pat had some brand-new lacerations, for which he was treated at Harbor hospital.

CONDITIONS IN COTTON FIELDS ARE UNCHANGED

Activities Dormant While Governor's Committee Makes Investigation

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Strike activities remained dormant in most of the San Joaquin valley cotton fields, while a fact-finding committee appointed by Gov. James Rolph prepared its report on the situation.

The committee suddenly concluded its work at Visalia after hearing blonde Caroline Decker, secretary of the "Joint strike committee" insist that cotton pickers can not earn enough to feed themselves on the 60-cents-per-hundred weight scale offered by growers.

The cotton ranchers, in turn, said futures contracts prevented their increasing the scale to the $1 rate asked by the strikers.

Prof. Ira B. Cross, University of California, remained in the field to investigate conditions in strikers' colonies, where pestilence and hunger were reported. The other members of the committee, Archbishop Edward Hanna, San Francisco, and Dr. Tully Knowles, Stockton, left the area.

The governor also sent Timothy A. Reardon, director of industrial relations, to make a personal investigation.

Strikers offered to hold private conferences to discuss a settlement but the ranchers rejected the proposal.

The labor leaders planned to extend their movement into Fresno county where a special force of sheriff's deputies awaited outbursts. In Kern county the strike was reported ended. In other sections many pickers returned to the fields. Cotton gin receipts increased steadily. Picketing waned.

OLD IRONSIDES IS FLAGSHIP TO NAVY

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 21.—(UP)—A little wooden ship, the forerunner of a mighty steel armada, became today for a few minutes the flagship of the United States navy.

Old Ironsides, the frigate Constitution of naval fame, celebrated her 136th birthday.

Admiral David F. Sellers, commander in chief of the fleet, paid her an inspection visit during which his four-star flag was ordered flown from the ship's main truck.

CODE FOR FILM ANIMALS FILED IN SACRAMENTO

Prices for Rent of Various Dumb Workers Are Included in Code

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Unless "Tusko," the elephant, is paid $100 a day; unless Marianna, Moufflon gets the same figure, and unless Reginald Rhinoceros finds $350 in his daily pay envelope, there will be no more jungle pictures made in Hollywood.

A code for working peccaries, aardvarks, ichneumonids and animals P. T. Barnum never knew existed, was presented today to the state corporation department under terms of the state recovery act.

The deputy commissioner complained of a headache after reading 35 closely typewritten pages of the wages demanded for the film capital's dumb workers.

It was nothing compared to the combined headache experienced by Movieland's casting directors, who visualized the prices they must pay if they continue to pour forth adventures of "Tarzan" and "Trader Horn."

The application for the code was filed by the domestic wild animal and equipment rental industry, representing five companies and employing 42 men.

The hours of work don't bother the animals, but they must be sure of steady food, the code application related.

Kangaroos, cheetahs, binturongs, peccaries, skunks, aardvarks, pumas, barbarussas, even the slow lorises demands his pound of flesh, preferably in good coin of the realm.

Waltzing mice will work for 50 cents a day. Guinea pigs for a dollar. But pythons and boas work by the foot. A python under 20 feet in length commands $75 a day. Between 20 and 25 feet, $100, and over 25 feet, $125. Boas range from $25 to $35 a day. Non-poisonous snakes will receive $5, but rattlesnakes must be paid $10.

The higher-salaried brackets, equivalent in stature with directors and supervisors, are occupied by the giraffe, $500 a day; rhinoceros, $300; hippopotami, regular and pigmy, $200, and gorillas, $200. Untrained lions bring $10 a day, but trained ones are $100. Cubs are 50 cents apiece.

For $25 a day you can rent a gazelle or a kangaroo, a binturong or an African porcupine, a sea lion or a wombat.

For $50 a day you can obtain a barbarussa, an ichneumon (sometimes called a mongoose), a wart hog or two six-foot alligators. The aardvark comes at $100 a day, but the aard wolf at $150. They are equally ugly.

Personally, we'd take a dingo at $10, a slow loris at $5 or even a paca at $10.

The skunks, by the way, at $7.50 a day, are guaranteed.

What's a moufflon, you ask? Gosh, we don't know.

ALFRED READ HELD ON THEFT CHARGES

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Alfred E. Read Jr., former broker and a prize fighter, for one round, was held under $500 bail today on the petty theft charge entered by Claire Windsor, blonde screen actress.

Honor Paid President By College

Chief Executive in Brief Appeal for Co-operation at Ceremonies

WASHINGTON COLLEGE, CHESTERTOWN, Md., Oct. 21.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today predicted national economic recovery in a shorter time than "the five or ten year plans of dictatorship."

The president spoke at historic Washington college where he received the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

"I believe," the president said, "in this country, which has no dictator, we can move further in a shorter period without naming a definite length of time."

The president, whose speech was extemporaneous, pleaded for co-operation "in carrying forward a program looking to national rehabilitation."

Dr. Gilbert Wilcox Mead was inaugurated as the nineteenth president of the college at the same exercises before a distinguished audience which included, besides the president, Gov. Ritchie of Maryland.

Dr. Mead placed about Mr. Roosevelt's neck the purple stole denoting the new honorary degree.

"I do not think," Mr. Roosevelt said, "I could say anything that would be adequate after the splendid word from the new president of Washington college. He has spoken of tomorrow. But in coming here I cannot help but recall the past."

Mr. Roosevelt then made a brief appeal for cooperation, citing the difficulties that confronted Washington, America's first president, who was the first person to receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws from this college.

"If we could provide in this nation for an adequate education for everyone then the security of

DEATH ON STEAMER PROBED BY POLICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Alleged disappearance of $3,000 in cash led police today to investigate the death of Mrs. Lucille Fulton, 32, reportedly wealthy Los Angeles widow, killed by a fall aboard the steamer Ruth Alexander.

Miss Alice Bradshaw, Los Angeles, the widow's companion on an ocean trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco, told police she believed Mrs. Fulton had the money in $1,000 bills.

On the body, when the woman died 29 minutes after the fall, were found $951 in cash, postal savings checks for $2,500, and three checks for a total of $2,475, steamer officials reported. They had no knowledge of any other money in her possession.

EXTEND CHEST CAMPAIGN FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Pledges Received During First Week Total More Than $18,200

A FINAL emergency drive of six days will end the 1933 Community Chest appeal, it was announced today.

The campaign will be extended from October 23 through October 28 as a result of decision by the campaign executive committee meeting at Chest headquarters, 504 North Main street, yesterday afternoon. At the same time an emergency mobilization was launched which, it is hoped, will add 100 workers to the Chest personnel.

Each one of these added volunteers are being asked to limit their work to contacting not more than 10 prospective givers.

Community Chest agencies have been asked to recruit workers from among their friends for this final drive. Special appeal will be made to the Ethel club and the Parent-Teachers Association and in some instances appeals for "10-cit volunteers" will be made to church congregations tomorrow.

The appeal to the churches and clubs will be for women workers. Chest agencies are asked to recruit both men and women.

"We now have in excess of $18,200 pledged to the Chest. This return to date is representative considering that the amount sought this year is greatly reduced, and considering the further fact that the appeal so far has been made by a personnel of insufficient numbers," said J. S. Smart, of the campaign advisory committee, today.

"Hundreds of prospects in the residential section who in other years have given a total of several thousand dollars are yet to be contacted. To me it is inconceivable that the women of Santa Ana will not heed the emergency appeal now being made for workers and will join the volunteer staff to contact only 10 prospects," was the comment of Mrs. F. E. Coulter, another member of the advisory committee.

Mrs. Paul Bailey, chairman of the women's division, is continuing to lead the campaign for women workers. "Some of our units have done wonderfully well, Mrs. Bailey said today. "We expect a wide response from women who will see 10 prospects. We are asking all of these volunteers to start not later than Tuesday and to complete their report by Friday evening. It is my opinion that the residential district can be swept clean by next Saturday. We are going to do it," Mrs. Bailey asserted.

HUTTON TARGET IN NEW COURT BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The portly figure of David L. Hutton Jr., was the target of a new court fight today, launched by Angelus Temple officials to lock him out of the temple where he once resided in marital harmony with his pastor, Almer McPherson Hutton.

Angered by the baritone's sudden appearance a few days ago to retrieve a piano he said belonged to him, the Echo Park Evangelical association filed suit for injunction to restrain him from another "raid" on the church. The complaint accused him of creating a disturbance when he arrived with piano movers before he left with his precious instrument, he threatened to bring about the arrest of a remodeling temple employee, the suit alleged.

O. E. S. VOTES MEET TO SAN FRANCISCO

LONG BEACH, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Maude Sleutach of Merced was appointed grand chaplain and San Francisco was chosen as next year's convention site before delegates to the 60th annual convention of the California grand chapter, Order of Eastern Star, returned home today.

Other appointments announced by elective officers were Mrs. Mary Warner, Ontario, grand marshal; Mrs. Cecil Macmeier, San Francisco, grand organist; Sally Laberman and Hazel Lane, Los Angeles, Millicent Cullen, San Francisco, Ietta May Isaacs, Sonoma, and Myrtle Glover, Oliver City, grand star points. Mrs. Lucy Marsh, grand warden; and Ernest Taylor, grand sentinel.

Seaman Loses Life Trying to Reach Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The U. S. transport Chaumont, steamed toward the Orient today without Gunner's Mate Stephen Orban, who lost his life in a futile effort to swim to the ship after it cleared the dock here.

The crowd watching 1000 enlisted men depart for Asiatic service was startled when a man ran down the pier shouting, "Wait for me."

The ship was yards away from the dock and his call was not heard. The man, in naval uniform, plunged into the water and started to swim toward the ship. Three hundred yards out he sank while two naval tugs rushed to aid him. His body was not recovered.

BOMBS HURLED NEAR HOMES OF UNION MINERS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Two bombs exploded near the homes of working miners here today as factional mine union warfare broke out anew.

The bombs according to police, were loaded with unusually powerful explosives. They were set off in the rear of homes of United Mine Workers of America in a miner's community in southeast Springfield near the Peabody Coal company mine which resumed operations under a wage-scale contract with the United Mine Workers of America today.

There were no pickets at the Peabody mine from the ranks of the Progressive Miners of America which have been combating operation of mines working under U. W. A. agreements.

None was injured by the bombs but state soldiers and county police were mobilized in the vicinity. No arrests were made. Meanwhile a diminished army of Progressive demonstrators who marched on the capital Thursday with their auxiliary remained in the city today in a gesture of protest.

JOEL M'CREA WEDS SCREEN ACTRESS

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Joel McCrea and Frances Des were Mr. and Mrs. McCrea today following their sudden and quiet marriage last night by the Rev. George A. Bronson, of the Rye Methodist Episcopal church.

The Rev. Bronson said that someone rang his doorbell last night shortly after dinner. He admitted a couple who announced they wanted to be married and produced a license obtained earlier in the day in New York City. They gave their names as Joel McCrea and Frances Des, ages 37, and 23 respectively, and New York City addresses.

NAVY OFFICER IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

TOKIO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Lt. Commander F. A. Comerford, U. S. N., attempted suicide at sea but will recover, a dispatch from Yokohama said today.

Comerford was reported homebound bound on the President Jackson, because of a nervous breakdown. He had served on the U. S. S. Houston.

The dispatch said the naval officer took poison, then cut himself with a razor. He had 23 cuts on his body, doctors said.

The injured officer was placed in a hospital at Yokohama when the liner docked there.

Economic Warfare to Continue Until Farmers Are Given Fair Prices

GOVERNORS SUPPORT

Iowa Farm Bureau Declares Only 10 Per Cent of All Farmers to Join Strike

DES MOINES, Oct. 21.—(UP)—A national farm strike became effective at noon today, with opposing opinions as to the effectiveness of the National Farm Holiday association's plan to tie up the nation's food supply.

Holiday headquarters here could not estimate the number of farmers in 27 states supporting the strike. Reports that dissension had risen in the ranks of local holiday associations were denied by directors of the movement.

Farmers of the midwest, desperate because of failure of farm produce prices to respond to the national recovery program, struck today in an effort to force federal relief.

Farm organizations claiming a membership of 2,000,000 farmers in 27 states called on their members to halt move of livestock and food to market and to boycott merchants until farm prices reach cost of production.

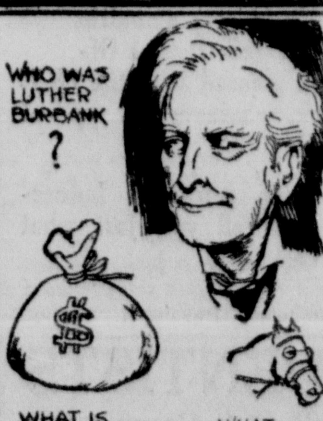

The declaration of "economic warfare" was issued by Milo Reno, militant president of the National Farmers Holiday association, effective at noon today and to continue until farmers receive a "fair price" for the products.

Leaders Silent
Opinion as to the support which the movement will receive from the great majority of farmers not affiliated with the association differed. Leaders of other organizations, believing in more conservative action, withheld comment.

Support of efforts to focus federal attention to the plight of farmers came from at least five governors of middlewestern states—North Dakota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota. Endorsement of the strike as a method of obtaining relief was not given by all the governors, however.

New Water District Board To Organize Tuesday

VOTES TO BE CANVASSED BY SUPERVISORS

Recently elected directors of the Orange County Water District will hold their organization meeting Tuesday, following an official canvass by the Orange county board of supervisors of the vote cast at the special election on last Wednesday, according to County Clerk J. M. Backs. The supervisors will meet Monday morning at 9 o'clock to canvass the vote.

According to Backs between the time the supervisors complete the official check of the vote and the time the newly elected directors hold their organization meeting, he must issue each director a certificate of election, the director must qualify and post $1000 bond. Under laws governing formation of the water district and seating of the directors, the newly named board must meet on the first Tuesday after the election and after the newly elected directors qualify.

Terms Alternate
As the first meeting the directors shall classify themselves in two groups as nearly equal as possible with the largest number of directors being classified as having their terms expire the first Tuesday in March after the next general February election under the special water district act. The smaller group holds office until the first Tuesday in March after the second general February election of the district.

Under laws governing elections in the district, elections are to be held the first Tuesday in February in odd years. The first election will be in 1935 and the second in 1937.

At the organization meeting the directors, according to Backs, shall elect a president and secretary and fix the salary and bond for the secretary. Both president and secretary shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. The secretary, Backs said, need not be a member of the board.

A meeting place for the directors has not yet been decided upon it is said. The courthouse cannot be used for that purpose as Santa Ana is not in the district and meetings must be held within the district. It is considered probable that the board will meet in Orange.

BOOKINGS AT JAIL INCLUDE U. S. PRISONERS

Seven new names were added today to the booking register of the Orange county jail, records at the sheriff's office disclosed today.

Harry H. Hudson, life insurance salesman, 201 West 29th street, Santa Ana, was brought in by Anaheim police officers, and booked on a forgery charge.

Frank Hoffman, 45, salesman, 415 South Rise street, Anaheim, sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or spend 250 days in the county jail on a charge of possession of liquor, was committed to the county jail on commitment papers issued by City Recorder Frank Teusch of Anaheim.

John L. Kesey, 752 Fourth street, San Bernardino, was arrested by Chief of Police Gus Barnes of Placentia, and booked on an intoxication charge.

Arrested for investigation of grand theft, Alvin Condra, 24, 207 South A street, Tustin, was placed in the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Arthur L. Ellis and E. E. Petty.

Ernesto Perez, 25, Mexican laborer, El Modena, was arrested by Constable Bartley and booked on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Said to be wanted by the federal authorities, Roscoe Clough, 34, oil refiner, residing at the Pico Apartments, Los Angeles, was brought down from Los Angeles and placed in the county jail. Inquiries at the sheriff's office disclosed that Clough had some difficulty with the authorities here in 1925. Brought down by Clough was Mary A. Rountree, 36, stenographer, 862 South 10th street, Los Angeles, who was booked on a federal forgery charge. The woman prisoner is believed to be connected in some way with Clough's difficulties.

WHY THE STRIKES?

Traffic Towers of Washington and New York
By BURTON KLINE
(Furnished by the National Whirligig Service)

In three states of the Union, 70,000 silk workers have been out for weeks. For weeks in several other states, 100,000 miners have been striking. Not coal but Cain. In many more states the Federal Department of Labor has been sweating for months to settle industrial disputes involving workers by the hundred thousand.

Now in every state millions of Americans ask, Why these innumerable strikes?
The question is asked with the greater point in view of the surrounding facts. Business is unmistakably picking up—lustrously in spots. With two million and more of the idle back at work, labor has taken its first step forward in four dismal years. With the new rights handed out on a platter by the Recovery Act, it lifts its face to a future brighter than any before it in the thousands of years since there has been such a thing as labor.

At one of these rights in particular business men shiver in their shoes—the right from now on to unionize in whole a country long unionized in part. They say the way is wide open to a union dominance too strong already and henceforth likely to be complete. Some of them want it stopped.

All the more reason to ask, then, Why is the worker thus kicking himself in the face? These unions being so powerful, why don't they muzzle their men? Why are these strikes allowed? Why do they happen?
They are "allowed" because they are outlaw affairs—guerrilla warfare. They happen because those who wage them, long out of work, are now out of hand.

Recovery from a depression has long bred these things. This time they happen to be more than a yell for revenge after a yell of distress. They are happening in response to a social urge that not all the unionism on earth could control.

Rising out of a past darkened by some of the most mournful pages in history, labor has had placed before it at last, thanks to the Recovery Act, a new flight of stars. These outlaw strikers aim to take the whole flight at a bound, and whether they know it or not they have behind them, even more than history, one of the strongest urges in human nature.

What is afoot in the ranks of labor just now can best be seen through a squint at its past. Striving humanity's deepest trait, up to recent years, has been—with good reason—hatred of work. Certainly since there has been such a thing as a human family, the family has stood divided over the burning question of who should do the work, most of it regarded as dirty and degrading.

The more aggressive had always saddled the work of the world on the more unfortunate. The unfortunate had always striven on their knees to get out of doing it, and the fortunate had always mortally feared that the attempt might succeed—and has taken the lash sometimes to see that it didn't.

Which accounted for another of humanity's fixed attitudes. It had always hated not only work—but also the worker.
For thousands of years, until quite recently, this dread of both worker and the worker has been grooved into human nature. The worker has always bitterly resented it, and to this day it crops out in his ranks. For all the fine things said in the '80's and '90's regarding the new partnership between capital and labor, a dispute had only to break between them, and out came their deep-seated, age-old, inherent hostility.

Now something has changed the face of all this at last—the marvelous machinery of the past 10 years that has taken the drudgery out of work. It has taken more than the drudgery, it has taken the stigma from toil.

This same advanced machinery accused of tossing millions of men out of their jobs has put a whole new psychology into the minds, not of workers alone, but of every one else.
The ancient struggle to climb out of doing the work is gone. Its place is filled with pride in skill and power and accomplishment. That much of the age-old quarrel between those who own and profit and those who toil and take wages has vanished. But something of the worker's old grudge against the rest of humanity remains, and those who would halt or battle labor's organization would do well to heed it.

These current strikes that dismay the country so much are flickers of the fires they may encounter. That is their meaning. The worker no longer need climb out of work. But he has an other inveterate hope—to climb out of a subject class—out of the mine and the ditch owned by somebody else—out of the many bossed by the few—into something nearer equality with the rest in managing the life of the whole. And the Recovery Act is important for more than allotting him wages and hours suited to his worth. It offers him at last the stair to that hope.

Deep down these strikes are croppings-out of the old family feud over the cranks inequalities of rank and age, fortune and power that work has always brought into to the world. They are a blind movement to a new order of things, a social struggle of magnitude not yet measured.

Curiously enough its drift and character have been sensed at least, in unexpected quarters. In the New York end of The National Whirligig, Mr. McMullin lately reported important Wall Street figures as disposed to let the American Federation of Labor go the limit in organizing the country.

The Street still controls business and business opinion. It speaks for industry as a whole. It thus can smooth the Federation's way by the simple process of raising the wall that has blocked unionization of the country since there has been such a thing as organized labor.

Has the Street seen writing on the wall? Or is it, as other intimations hint, a quiet bidding the same, for another killing war on the old battle ground?
The air is full of prophecy. Forces under cover about the country are said by those who know to be mustering for it. And a clash of the two antagonists can mean the death of both, and both of them know it.

The alternative is the partnership planned in the Recovery Act and supported by the people—a partnership at last of fact and not the old one of words. As an index of the temper of labor deep down in the ranks strikes today are a warning of what well may happen otherwise.

If they serve as such they may yet be worth all the loss and gnashing of teeth they cause.

CITY OFFICIAL STARTS TRIP TO SAN QUENTIN

Philip C. Brooks, 40, until a few days ago city clerk of Tustin, and a respected citizen of that community, today was on his way to San Quentin state penitentiary where he will serve sentence imposed Thursday afternoon by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

Brooks had pleaded guilty to charges of grand theft and falsifying public records as city clerk of the municipality of Tustin, the charge growing out from an alleged loss of $429.05 of city funds, for which the former city official could not account. He was sentenced to San Quentin for a period ranging from one to ten years on the two accounts, the sentences to run concurrently. As a public official, the accused could not apply for probation. He was taken to the state's prison by Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvie and two Fullerton officers.

On his trip to the penitentiary, Brooks was accompanied by Clifford Y. Box, Texas shipping clerk; Lawrence C. Cahill, 33, of New York City; and Morris Wahrhaftig, 25, painter, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a hold-up trio.

Police News

Following reports phoned in by resident, local police officers today were investigating the alleged movements of men who are reported to be selling wax and floor polish. In this connection, the city license inspector was requested to ascertain whether or not any licenses have been issued for selling these materials.

John Fainberg, Santa Ana High school student, reported last night to police headquarters that some unknown person stole a small amount of money from his clothes which had been deposited at a locker at the Frances Willard Junior High school during a football practice game. The school authorities are aiding the police in the investigation.

A family quarrel between two Mexican women yesterday resulted in the arrest of Veda Magana, 518 Daisy street, on a charge of disturbing the peace. The complaint was sworn out by Mary Magana, a relative of the accused. After being brought into court, the former was released on her own recognizance by City Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Wisconsin Joins
Gov. Albert Schmiedman of Wisconsin, where frequent milk strikes have occurred, announced the strike "is a national matter requiring leadership of federal authorities" and that his state would join the movement within 24 hours.

The Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, with a membership of more than 1,000,000 farmers, announced it would not participate in the strike and predicted not more than 10 per cent of midwest farmers would take part. Leaders described the present strike as "a mistake."

Reno and other leaders of the Farm Holiday Association, however, were confident of success. The farm situation, Reno said, has reached the point where millions of farmers have concluded federal attention can be attracted only by drastic action.

The demands of the association, Reno said in his proclamation, include a price equal to the cost of production, an increase of money in circulation, a national moratorium on mortgage foreclosures, a refinancing of farm debts and a code for agriculture.

The strike, Reno said, will be "entirely peaceful unless farmers are forced to violence." He called on farmers to refuse to sell any produce except for prices equal to the cost of production, refuse to buy merchandise except as necessary to sustainance, refuse to leave their homes or meet capital payments and to decline to pay taxes or interest on debts out of money needed for food, clothing and other necessities.

STATE GRANGE VOTES AGAINST STRIKING

PLACERVILLE, Calif., Oct. 21. (UP)—The California State Grange will not participate in the national farm strike, it was decided at the final session of the annual convention here today.

After an all-night debate, a resolution was adopted expressing sympathy with states which have adopted such measures but declining to alien the California Grange with the strike movement. This state's perishable produce crops made it unfeasible to attempt measures of this sort, the resolution stated, adding that California farmers would resort to more peaceful means to get better prices. It also approved State Master George Sehmeyer's stand in opposition to any measures of violence.

Other resolutions adopted in the closing session included:
Requiring the federal government to fix minimum prices for farm produce; approved the code for wine grape growers; condemned the pro-rate bill; condemned Assembly Bill 1945, termed the "agricultural district finance bill"; approved government control of the banking system; recommended the government "buy American" for army and navy camps, and favored further curbing of immigration quotas, with particular reference to Orientals.

The convention also went on record as favoring a state income tax bill and a modified sales tax. Strong sentiment in opposition to a referendum on the sales tax was expressed.

McCain Reports No Liquor Involved in Son's Injury

L. Adrian McCain, son of C. M. McCain, prominent Santa Ana realtor, whose skull was fractured Wednesday night in Los Angeles, was the victim of violence attending discussion of opposing unions in the motion picture business, his father reported today.

A report received from Los Angeles by wire service and carried in The Register asserting young McCain had been injured in a "beer garden brawl" was in error, according to the father, who said that detectives investigating the case and Dr. E. C. Wiley of the staff of Cedar of Lebanon's hospital, where McCain is a patient, declared that there had been no evidence of McCain having been drinking.

According to Adrian McCain, who soon was to return to work for the Warner Brothers studios, he was in the cafe when an argument arose over unionism. McCain got up and started for the door, when he was struck over the head from behind. He does not know who hit him, and Stanley Williams, who was arrested shortly after the attack, declared that he did not know who struck the Santa Ana youth, although he admitted talking to him.

McCain's father is well known here, where he has been in the real estate business for a quarter of a century, and for a time his son worked with him as a salesman.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21. (To the Editor of The Register:) Flew in here this morning with Vice-President Garner and Mr. Farley and there is something that you ought to come all the way to San Antonio to see, that's Randolph Flying Field. The finest flying field in the world and the prettiest laid out thing in America; then there's Kelly Field. Our salvation in the next war comes out of this unique little city.

Flying on down to Garner's home at Uvalde, where for thirty years he represented them in Congress, and the prairie dogs all voted for him. Where other Vice-Presidents have done nothing but make speeches, Garner just fishes. If all politicians fished instead of spoke publicly, we would be at peace with the world.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

REHEARSALS OF CHORUS TO OPEN LAST OF MONTH

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 21. — A community chorus is to be organized here under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association. The chorus will be under the direction of Orion Behermeyer, vice principal of Westminster schools and a music teacher and leader of experience.

The chorus will be composed of both men and women and Mr. Behermeyer asks all men who have ability to be present for the first practice the evening of October 31 at the church hall. A number of women have signified their intention of joining the chorus, which heretofore has been the Mothers' chorus of the community. Mr. Behermeyer organized a large chorus in Boulder, Kan., before coming to this state. Community programs will be presented by the chorus.

GRANGE BACKS BIG STATE WATER PLAN

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Oct. 21. (UP)—The Great Central Valley Water Power project had the approval today of the California State Grange after considerable argument in the annual convention here.

The sessions were extended beyond midnight for a discussion of the national farm strike, scheduled to begin at noon. A special committee prepared a report on California's participation in the strike movement.

George Sehmeyer, re-elected state master for the third term, indicated his opposition to a movement but said the "grange undoubtedly will co-operate with any action taken by other farming organizations."

Radio Concern Reports Many Unfilled Orders

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21. (Special)—A production in radio receiving sets during the six months ending September 30 greater than that of any similar period in preceding years and an increase in employment payroll of approximately 100 per cent during the two-month period ending September 30, has been announced by the Crosley Radio corporation by Powell Crosley Jr., president.

These figures show, according to Crosley, that during the month of September the number of radio sets built and shipped exceed by more than 25 per cent that of the highest September production in the history of this concern.

Since August 1, when the Crosley company began operation under NRA codes, 1310 persons have been added to its payroll bringing the total, as of September 30, to 2737. Further additions are being made daily.

HONOR PAID TO PRESIDENT AT COLLEGE RITES

the country would be safeguarded," the president said.

"Today we are making many changes in method and machinery of life. Not only in government but in every phase. But we are maintaining the old principles of boyhood.

"There is a tendency to lose sight of the forest for the trees. There is a tendency to magnify the little changes and forget the principle. We have accomplished much in the last few months, but at the same time, we cannot obtain the goal in a few months.

"Some countries which have a dictatorship have a five or ten year plan. We have no dictatorship but I believe we shall be able to reach our objectives in a much shorter time."

The president drove to the college ceremonies, he drove back to the Brown home for luncheon. Later he went aboard the Sequoia again for a Chesapeake bay cruise.

Dr. Mead, who spoke before Mr. Roosevelt, praised the "new deal" of the Washington administration and added:

"We suffered from a ruthless individualism in which were the seeds of incalculable disaster. From this we have been saved."

FUSION PARTY IN N. Y. MAKES PLEDGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (UP)—The fusion party was pledged to a "strictly non-partisan regime" today despite unqualified endorsement by city Republicans.

Florella H. La Guardia warned leaders that his induction into the mayoral chair would take him "out of politics," so far as his administration was concerned. His promise came a few minutes after nationally prominent Republicans, among them Elihu Root and Henry L. Stimson, both former cabinet officials, promised to support fusion.

While organized Republicanism aligned itself with La Guardia, Tammany Hall jangled the promise of 30,000 city jobs before its wavering organization.

REPORTS GIVEN AS AUXILIARY MEETS

COSTA MESA, Oct. 21.—Rehabilitation work of Costa Mesa Legion Auxiliary of the work during the past month was revealed in reports at this week's meeting. Other business matters were, the installation of a second vice president, Mrs. Olive Kinley; sergeant-at-arms, Miss Ethel Kinley, and a delegate to the county council, Mrs. Martha Hall. Mrs. Violet Webster presided at the installation ceremony.

Convicted Man Asks New Trial

Pronouncement of judgment on Robert Seacord, found guilty by a jury on a charge of grand theft, was postponed yesterday by Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel when Otto Jacobs, attorney for Seacord, filed notice of a motion for a new trial. Argument for the motion was set for next Saturday morning before Judge Arthur L. Mundo of San Diego, who presided during the trial.

Seacord originally was charged with burglary of the B. J. MacMullen automobile agency and grand theft of a Liberty bond. The jury verdict found him guilty of grand theft and not guilty of burglary.

DINNER PLANNED

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 21.—The monthly public dinner of the Happy Workers' society of the Westminster Presbyterian church will be held Wednesday at the Woman's clubhouse at Barber City.

The serving committee is composed of Mrs. R. E. Larter, Mrs. Larter, Mrs. Thomas Hoack, Mrs. Margaret Hoack, Mrs. M. J. P. Hill, Mrs. Armand Hill, Mrs. B. Crane, Beatrice Knapp, Mrs. Virginia Patterson, Mrs. Alice Hare and Mrs. Marie Hare.

REPEAL AND EMPTY PEWS SERMON TOPIC

An unusual service of music and song is planned for the First Christian church at 7 p. m. tomorrow according to announcement today by the minister, the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan.

The Rev. Mr. Buchanan will speak on a subject brought about by the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and the empty pews in the Southern California churches on Sunday nights. The subject "Is God Dead?" is expected to bring about a fine discussion on these two important questions.

Another feature of the service will be the musical program arranged by Frank Pierce, director of music which includes selections requested by members of the church. Among those taking part are R. S. Briggs, flute soloist; Mrs. R. S. Briggs, organist; Mrs. Blanche Hackelton piano, Pierce, a baritone soloist, and the church choir of 35 voices.

TEACHER SUES SCHOOL BOARD ON SALARY CUT

For the second time within the week a suit has been filed in superior court by teachers against the school boards of the districts in which they teach over alleged "unlawful salary reductions."

Late yesterday Mrs. Mary L. Emerson, teachers in the Paulino school, filed a petition for a writ of mandate against the Paulino board of trustees and J. W. Shiffer and Jake Arent as members of the board, alleging that her salary was reduced from $1400 annually to $900 annually without proper notification. The petition was granted by Presiding Judge G. K. Scovel, returnable November 3.

According to the petition by Mrs. Emerson, she has taught in the Paulino school for the past 14 years and has taught all seven grades. In 1928 she was classified by the trustees as a permanent teacher. In 1929 and 1930 she received an annual salary of $1650, in 1931, according to the petition, her salary was reduced, with her consent, to $1550. In 1932 it was cut again, with her consent, to $1400.

Mrs. Emerson alleges in her complaint that, subsequent to the first meeting of the board last May and prior to commencement of the school year on July 1, 1933, she did not receive notice of any change in the conditions of her employment or salary. According to the provisions of the school code of the state and laws of the state, according to the petition, through failure to notify her of any change she became employed at the same annual salary as paid in the preceding year.

On July 25 she was notified by the clerk of the board that her salary had been reduced from $1400 to $900, the petition reads. At the time, according to the petition, she served oral notice that she would not accept less than $1400.

After October 1 she demanded a salary warrant for $140 due her as first payment on her salary. The demand was refused and she was offered a warrant for $90. She is asking for a court order for $140 for her first warrant and $100 attorney's fees.

They will also meet with the schoolhouse reconstruction committee of the state relative to Santa Ana's reconstruction program and the best method of financing the program.

GETS TERM IN BATTLE FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Following recommendations of a jury that found him guilty, Frank Egan, yesterday was denied probation on a charge of drunken driving and sentenced to serve three months in jail by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, during criminal court session yesterday.

John Parker, 18, who pleaded guilty to burglarizing the home of D. W. Brunskill in Fullerton, was denied probation and sentenced to the Preston School of Industry at Ione. Parker was denied probation when it was revealed that he was a parole violator from the Indiana State Reformatory.

Sam Hathaway Yearney pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon yesterday afternoon before Superior Judge James L. Allen and will appear Monday morning for pronouncement of judgment. Yearney originally was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. The murder intent was removed and Yearney pleaded guilty to attacking Claude Barnes with a razor.

Joseph Stevens was given a continuance until Monday to enter a plea to a charge of committing an infamous crime against nature. Earl Bell pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and asked for probation. Hearing on the application was set for October 27.

ORDER DAMAGE SURVEY OF FOUR MORE SCHOOLS

Inspection of four additional school buildings for possible earthquake damage was ordered last night by the Santa Ana board of education. Schools to be inspected by the state architect, following last night's decision will be Hoover, Wilson, Julia Lathrop Junior High school and Frances Willard Junior High school.

Decision to make this additional inspection was reached last night when it was reported that Gilbert E. Morris who is making the inspection for the state, has completed checking the high school buildings and will have his findings ready to transmit to Sacramento next week. Elementary schools included in the original inspection order will be checked by November 1.

Andrew P. Hill, in charge of the state department of architecture for the schools will be in Santa Ana next Wednesday and when the board adjourned last night it was to meet with Hill at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

George Wells, chairman of the board will leave tomorrow for Sacramento where he will join Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson Monday to confer with members of the state board of engineers, under whose directions the buildings in the local school system are being inspected.

They will also meet with the schoolhouse reconstruction committee of the state relative to Santa Ana's reconstruction program and the best method of financing the program.

Local Briefs

Harry Evan Owings, minister of the First Baptist church, was a guest of the Los Angeles Baptist association in Whittier Friday evening. Rev. Owings gave the address of the evening during the young people's session.

Lee Hall, well known Santa Ana barber, has joined the staff of Joe Steele's barber shop on North Sycamore street. Hall has been in the barbering business in Santa Ana for the last 10 years and has owned one or two shops of his own.

Mrs. Margaret C. Dupre, 56, wife of John Francis Dupre, well known Laguna Beach artist, residing at 597 Lombardy Lane, was taken to the county hospital last night with a dislocated shoulder, sustained in a fall on a stairway at her home.

A small blaze resulting from a heated motor at 2302 North Main street was extinguished this forenoon by the fire department which responded to a call sent in by a confectionery located at the premises. No damage resulted, according to fire department officials.

CONDITIONAL BID BY CITY IS RECEIVED

With one conditional bid received for leasing of the old Willard school building at Tenth and Main, members of the Santa Ana board of education, last night voted to continue action on the proposal until November 14.

The only bid received was submitted by the city of Santa Ana and was for a term of five years at a total rental of $4700 payable on a graduated scale, starting at $500 for the first year. It was proposed to use the building for a city hall.

In submitting the bid, the city made it conditional upon the outcome of the bond election proposed for December 19 when voters will be asked to approve a bond issue for building a city hall at the old site at Third and Main streets.

Condition Stated
According to the condition in the bid received by the school board, if the voters approve the bond issue, last night's offer is void. Should they disapprove the bond issue the contract would stand.

The bid as submitted by the city also stipulated that while the lease would be for a five year period it could be cancelled after three years upon 90 days notice.

The property was advertised for lease by the board of education following a conference several weeks ago between board members and the city councilmen upon which terms for the city leasing the property was tentatively agreed upon. Following announcement of the proposed leasing of the property, pressure was brought to bear upon the city council in the form of petitions to utilize the former city hall site and vote bonds for construction of a new city hall.

Suggest Federal Loan
It was urged that the city apply for a federal loan under the grant and loan provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act whereby the city could borrow $100,000 from the federal government on a long time, low interest loan. Of the $100,000 requested the government would make an outright gift of 30 per cent to the city, it is anticipated.

Under the terms of the conditional lease as submitted in the city's bid last night the board of education would receive as annual rental for the property $500 the first year; $600 the second; $900 the third; $1200 the fourth and $1500 the fifth.

Pending decision on what action to take on the city's offer the board of education instructed Business Manager George Newcom to notify the Unemployed Association, now occupying the building, that they could remain until the question of the lease on the property is settled.

WATER SUBJECT FOR COUNTY ENGINEERS

When the scheduled speaker failed to arrive, members of the Orange County Engineers' association held an informal discussion on the water situation and the new water district at their dinner meeting in Garden Grove last night. Roy Browning, newly elected director, and George Bates and H. Clay Kellogg, defeated candidates, spoke on the lowering water levels and gave facts on the new district.

OIL MEN TO GET CODE DATA MONDAY

Oil operators will meet in the Huntington Beach Memorial hall Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, when the new code for California oil production will be explained and discussed. It was announced today. A representative of Secretary Ickes will be present to explain features of the code. The meeting is being called by the proration committee of the town oil field.

Gets Sentence in Non-Support Case

Carl J. Engleman, employed by a local dairy concern, was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison to one year in the county jail on a charge of non-support of minor child, sentence being suspended on condition that the accused pay $20 a month for the support of the child.

When arraigned a few days ago on the charge, Engleman entered a plea of not guilty. This plea was changed to guilty yesterday afternoon, and the accused placed on trial. In addition to having his sentence suspended, the accused was placed on probation for two years.

CLEVER SKIT PRESENTED AT 'TECHNO PARTY'

Featured by a talk regarding the purposes of the Citizen's Protective League of Orange County, a play and a talk by Walter Thomas Mills, lecturer and authority on Technocracy, a "Techno party" was held last night in the Temple theater.

Donald Gaylord, Brea, chairman of the meeting, explained that the league was organized to assist unemployed of the county and to check NRA codes to see that the interests of consumers and workers are protected.

The second part of the program was a shadow play, "The Operation Was Successful but the Patient Died." "Major Capitalism" was operated on in the play, and attending physicians removed soldiers, battalions, unemployment, poor distribution, etc., which had been causing him "indigestion."

A heart, which was a bag of money, was in the "patient," who prior to the operation asked for "facilities" as an anesthetic. The play was followed by an informal talk by Mills, in which he answered questions asked by those present. Progress of work in circulating petitions in Orange county to further objectives of Technocracy were discussed.

Church Arranges Bible Lectures

A Bible conference will be sponsored by Calvary church, Placentia, featuring Dr. John C. Page, author and Bible expositor, formerly of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and the Los Angeles Bible institute, beginning Sunday night and continuing every night at 7:30 except Saturday, for two weeks, closing Sunday night, November 5.

Tuesday night will be young people's night, and members of all Calvary clubs are urged to attend in groups. The clubs will continue all their regular meetings during the conference.

The pastor, the Rev. Don Milligan, will speak Sunday morning on "The Believer's Keys."

Court Notes

Charles C. Manderscheid, R. D. 5, Box 123, charged with drunk driving following a wreck Saturday night with a gasoline truck on North Main street, has been sentenced to pay $200 or serve 100 days in jail by Judge J. G. Mitchell. He paid $50 and will pay the remainder on installments.

Simon Cordona, 908 Stafford street, has paid $5 of a $15 fine imposed by Judge J. G. Mitchell for drunkenness.

John Lane, charged with defrauding an inn-keeper, has had his hearing in police court continued until October 25.

W. L. Hicks, grocer, 632 South Flower street, was arraigned before Judge Kenneth Morrison Wednesday on a statutory offense charge and had his preliminary hearing set for October 25.

Fred Handy, Jr., 2032 Greenleaf street, charged with drunk driving and failure to stop and render aid after an accident, obtained his release from the county jail by posting $1000 bond after the original bail of $4000 on the two counts was reduced by Judge Kenneth Morrison. His preliminary hearing will be held on October 23 at 9 a. m.

Ezekiel Ramos, charged with assault with intent to do bodily harm, has been bound over to the superior court by Judge Halsey Spence of Fullerton. He is charged with striking his sister and breaking her jaw.

Otto F. Packard, charged with non-support of his wife, was given a suspended sentence and released from the county jail Wednesday on order of Judge Halsey Spence of Fullerton to give the defendant a chance to earn a living.

William Koehnig was given a suspended 90 day jail sentence for petty theft and Wednesday from the county jail yesterday by Judge A. W. Swayze of Orange.

Kenneth M. Corson, 47, Costa Mesa, entered the county jail Thursday to serve a 25-day jail sentence for petty theft after failing to pay a $50 fine to Judge William Leonard of Newport Beach.

Alfred Heckendorn, 24, Long Beach, has been booked at the county jail by Officer James Marousk of Seal Beach to serve a 15-day jail term for drunkenness.

Henry Galtton, Santa Ana, has been released from the county jail on a drunk charge after promising to pay his $15 fine to Judge J. G. Mitchell in two installments.

Mike Dominguez, charged with parking his car in two stalls, has paid a $2 fine in police court.

Dale E. Brockett paid a $1 fine for overtime parking when he appeared in police court Thursday.

John Treguhoff, Los Angeles, who was arrested at the Municipal Bowl Wednesday night with three and one half pints of whiskey and one gallon of wine, appeared in police court Thursday on charges of possession of liquor. He was committed to the county jail by Judge J. G. Mitchell for 100 days after failing to pay a $200 fine.

Workers Are Needed in Chest Drive

"We can get the money if we can get the workers." This was the challenge thrown down today by W. K. Hillyard, acting president of the Community Chest, in furthering the emergency mobilization program to get 100 volunteers who will agree to solicit not more than 10 prospective givers.

"More than $18,200 is now pledged. We have set the closing date of the campaign ahead to October 28. That is the final deadline. We're going to have a final week of real action. Santa Ana will forever regret the dissolution of its human agencies if they fail to meet the 1933 appeal. Workers can get the results. We are going to have 100 additional volunteers for this final intensive canvass," Mr. Hillyard concluded.

FARMERS' AND WORKERS' MEET BEING PLANNED

J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, will speak Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Costa Mesa grammar school on the subject, "The Nation's Challenge to Its Common People."

The meeting in Costa Mesa is one of series being held in Orange county next week leading up to the regional congress of Farmers and Workers for Economic Reconstruction which will be held in Santa Ana Saturday October 28.

Wilson was one of the conveners of the Continental Congress of Workers and Farmers which met in Washington, D. C., in May and signed "The New Declaration of Independence." He was selected as one of the conveners of the California state congress which was held in Sacramento July 22 and 23.

"This movement is entirely democratic," declares Wilson, "and is springing from the great mass of the common people who work in offices, factories, shops, schools, mines, on the farm, on railroads, ships or buildings. The congress proposes a united front in the attack on economic and social problems. Twenty-three states have held congresses and much good has been accomplished already through protective unions under the NRA and toward assisting the unemployed to become self sustaining and freed from charity."

"The final purpose of the movement will be to provide comfort, security and happiness for all through planned use of the nation's resources and industries," said Wilson.

The Orange county regional congress is under the direction of a county wide committee of which George A. Warner is chairman. All interested citizens are invited to the Costa Mesa lecture.

One cannot feel the majesty of, or realize the reverence in which the old fighter is held by the American people, without visiting the United States frigate "Constitution," Capt. Louis J. Gulliver told a large gathering of Laguna Beach citizens who gathered at the White House cafe Friday night with the Rotary club to honor the officers of the ship.

In an appeal to the patriotism of the people, Captain Gulliver declared it the duty of every American citizen, who possibly can do so, to see at first hand the ship of war that almost single handedly guaranteed to this nation the freedom of the seas.

Captain Gulliver's address was preceded by an informative talk by Commander Henry Hartley, executive officer of the ship. Dr. Vincent P. Carroll, president of the club, opened the meeting and prayer was offered by the Rev. Raymond L. Brahms, pastor of the Laguna Beach Community Presbyterian church, following the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." The address of welcome to the distinguished guests was made by Frank D. Hevener.

Among the guests were Capt. James W. Hanbery and Major George F. Schroeder of Long Beach, Mrs. Gulliver, Mrs. Hanbery, Mrs. Schroeder, Stephen Chalmers, the author and poet, and Frank W. Cuprien, program painter. Hal Forrest, chairman, called upon Cuprien to play as a piano solo one of his original compositions inspired by his paintings.

Stephen Chalmers read an original ode to "Old Ironsides." He also gave a brief word picture of the inspiration he received at seeing "Old Ironsides" in the half-light of the evening.

Committed to the county jail by Judge J. G. Mitchell for 100 days after failing to pay a $200 fine.

JURY HOLDS TWO DEATHS ACCIDENTAL

Verdicts of accidental death were returned yesterday afternoon by a coroner's jury following inquests held over the bodies of Miss Margaret Overend, 20, 1450 Columbia street, San Diego, and Edgar Murdock, 22, 122 North Garnsey street, traffic victims at the Harrel and Brown Funeral parlor, this city. In the case of Miss Overend, the jury held that the accident was unavoidable.

Miss Overend succumbed to injuries received in an automobile accident on the coast highway near Laguna Beach Sunday morning, and expired at the Orange County hospital. Three other women were seriously injured in the accident.

Murdock died at the Orange County hospital last Thursday morning, a few minutes after he was struck by a car while walking across the highway from the Valencia Ballroom on the state highway north of the hospital. He was hit by a car driven by Don A. Acosta, 34, 319 South Claudina street, Anaheim.

BEER HALL CURB LOOMING IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—An investigation is now under way here looking forward to the establishment of a closing hour and other regulation of beer halls and gardens in unincorporated county territory.

This was learned yesterday after the board of supervisors had acted on a letter from H. E. Billings, justice of the peace in Beverly Hills, who recently complained of the lack of restrictions on beer places in his territory.

Following receipt of the letter the matter was referred to the county public welfare commission.

Miss Irma D. Graham, secretary of the commission, declared that the matter is being investigated and will come before the commission as a whole in the near future.

SAN CLEMENTE UNEMPLOYED TO GET CITY WORK

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 21.—A fund for the purpose of providing work for unemployed of the city was created by the city council Friday night, the sum of $200 will be paid out each month, the plan being to provide two days work each week at $3.50 per day for an eight-hour day.

City Clerk William Holmes will be in charge of registration of the unemployed and City Engineer A. W. Ayer will direct their activities. The money will be taken from the various city department funds.

According to a report of O. R. Robertson, commissioner of parks and playgrounds, the discharge of W. J. Barry, a laborer on the golf course, was due to Barry's failure to co-operate with Les Abell, in charge of the golf course. Robertson asserted that Abell claimed the spotted fairways and the washed spots were the fault of Barry.

Barry was discharged shortly after the recall election in the Spanish Village and it was claimed that he was "let out" because the councilmen believed he favored the recall of three members of the council. A relative of Barry was active in the recall movement.

Two resolutions adopted by the Taxpayers' league were referred to the committee of the whole. One requested that the city council refer all major problems and money expenditure matters to the league before taking final action. The other resolution expressed opposition to the city assuming jurisdiction over the state highway through the city.

Following receipt of the letter the matter was referred to the county public welfare commission.

Miss Irma D. Graham, secretary of the commission, declared that the matter is being investigated and will come before the commission as a whole in the near future.

QUALITY DENTISTRY ON CREDIT

Inquire before you buy—Be sure before you pay—a $ sign means little —Satisfaction Means All.

Quality workmanship properly adapted to your satisfaction is exactly my policy to you. Why pay in full for your dental plate the minute you get it when you know nothing of its merits? My success depends entirely on your satisfaction, therefore it is imperative that every patient who comes into my office be a booster. This can only be accomplished by my ability to give you honest dentistry at an honest price.

I do not offer any "high-powered" salesmanship. When I say "I will make you my LIFELIKE PLATE for $10 or my UNBREAKABLE NU-ART PLATE SUPREME for $12.50," I mean just that. I do not advertise a price as bait to get you in my office to sell you something more expensive.

My home is Santa Ana, I am permanently located here, which allows me to extend you credit and assures you of a continued service. Don't be hasty when you buy dentistry. Remember the old adage, "Don't buy a pig in a poke." Wear first, pay later. Do not be embarrassed by lack of cash—remember I am permanent—I can adjust payments to your conditions. This not only applies to my plate work but to any dental service.

SAME PRICE CASH OR CREDIT

Wear While You Pay

$10 My Lifelike Plate

Smile naturally at the world, look around and feel natural — even though you haven't a tooth of your own. Wear my Lifelike Plates. NOW, for a limited time only, you may secure much needed, guaranteed dental service at UNSURPASSED LOW PRICES. Why delay any longer when all dental training and equipment necessary in your case may be obtained so easily and reasonably. Remember, this offer is for a short time only, so act today.

Painless EXTRACTIONS

SCHOOL REPAIR LOAN FUND TO EXPIRE DEC. 31

A balance of $4,000.000 which has been available since Aug. 16, 1932, for loans to schools for earthquake rehabilitation through Reconstruction Finance Corporation will automatically be withdrawn if not applied for and approved prior to December 31 of this year. It was learned today.

The announcement expressed the S. MacKay Jr., chairman of the special advisory committee to the R. F. C. administering earthquake relief loans.

MacKay announced that a $1,000,000 loan has been recommended on an application filed with the committee by the Los Angeles school board on October 19, 1933. Proceeds of this loan will be used for the purpose of rehabilitating Los Angeles elementary and high school buildings damaged by the earthquake.

The announcement expressed the hope that other school authorities would take advantage of the funds available for reconstructing damaged school buildings.

PLAN FOOTBALL GAME TO RAISE FUND FOR NEEDY

Santa Ana Spartans football team, an independent club, will meet the Huntington Park Lions, said to be one of the strongest club aggregations in Southern California, in a game scheduled to be played in Santa Ana Municipal Bowl next Wednesday night, in a benefit game.

Entire proceeds of the game will go for the city's unemployed. It was announced by Loren Smith, secretary of the Spartan Athletic club, which has been playing a series of games here and elsewhere.

The city will not charge its customary rental fee, it was understood, and the Spartans will devote to unemployment relief all receipts above actual expenses.

Last year a benefit game between Santa Ana and Long Beach junior college netted $240 for Santa Ana's jobless organization.

The Spartans will meet the Long Beach Ramblers after the benefit game here; opposite the Loyola college freshmen at Orange on November 11 and Santa Ana Junior college on November 15. Plans also are being made to play matches with the San Diego American Legion, Long Beach, Lancaster and a Los Angeles club eleven.

SAN BERNARDINO DRILLS TWO WELLS

Following the policy of the San Bernardino water board policy of shifting more of the municipal water supply burden to the lower sector of the underground basin, work has been started on the second of a pair of wells in the southern part of San Bernardino. It was learned today.

The well is being drilled at the northwest corner of Mill and D streets, under a contract held by the Roscoe Moss company of Pomona, which also drilled the first well in Lytle Creek which at a depth of 400 feet flowed about 50 inches of good quality water.

It is proposed to sink the new shaft to a depth of about 600 feet. The well at Mill and D streets is located at the southeastern extremity of the area in which San Bernardino may pump from the natural underground storage of the valley.

POOR MATERIAL HELD DEATH CAUSE

Blaming the selection of poor lumber for scaffolding as the cause of the death of Fay Tweedy, 48, Los Angeles construction worker who was injured on the Columbia oil lease near Atwood last Friday, a coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental death at the inquest Thursday afternoon from the McAuley and Suters funeral home, Anaheim.

Tweedy fell when an oil well scaffold collapsed and had his legs severely crushed. He was taken to the Fullerton General hospital, where he died Tuesday.

Funeral services will be held in Compton. Tweedy is survived by his widow and three children of Los Angeles.

Picnics and Reunions

WEST VIRGINIA
Grand rally of all former West Virginians, their friends and all who ever lived in their school days the McGuffey readers is announced for Saturday, October 28, at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.

Orta E. Monette will be principal speaker, with other notables making very brief talks.

The county registers will be open all day. Hot coffee and silk souvenir badges provided. President Henry P. Maxwell will act as master of ceremonies.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers and not those of the Register. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

A people believing in a government by the people and for the people, cannot conceive of the great organization of the "American Legion," who offered their lives as a sacrifice that "Democracy might not perish from the earth" going on record as in any way opposing the freedom of speech as guaranteed at all by our Constitution.

The American Legion should again rally to our flag and realize that we are facing an enemy more dangerous to our democracy than the foe in 1918. An enemy in our midst who by its greed and selfishness would permit millions of our men, women and helpless children to suffer for the necessities of life which we have in great abundance for all.

The desire to do something that shall benefit the world, when neither praise nor criticism will reach us, when we sleep soundly in the grave, is the noblest ambition of man.

The task of saving civilization will fall upon men who have substituted some new plan for the one of "rugged individualism" which has failed us.

We cannot hope to progress along a plan of co-operation for all without generating a degree of opposition from the favored class. We can only hope that it will be kept in control of reason and not be destructive before its work is done.

The rugged ones should not censor the weak when they themselves were the ones to shout the loudest for government help when they see themselves drifting on the rocks where the weak are fighting desperately for an existence.

Our people are beginning to realize that the purpose of the founders of our government was not a government by the few for the few, but a government by all of the people and for all of the people, a government so planned and so governed that all men might be able to eat bread by the sweat of their brow.

If we are to return to prosperity that shall be permanent, it will be by our government doing the part of an impartial umpire to see that as our noble President has said that "labor (all wealth is produced by labor) be paid sufficient to buy back what it produces."

R. E. BROWN.

To Editor, Register.

Dear Sir:

Much has been said of the benefits and help that farm loans and home loans will give to the millions of heads of families. The government is relieving much distress and binding together home ties and home influence, the greatest force in American life.

But what of the future, this year and the years to come when the bread winner is called to the great beyond by the Grim Reaper, leaving the orphan children and widow with a mortgage on the home and no insurance to pay it off, children to be fed and clothed and educated. Will the government put them out? Such actions would do more to cause disloyalty and anarchy than anything the government could do.

The remedy—set up a group life insurance fund for debt guarantee to pay off the mortgage, charging the borrower one per cent for mortgage guarantee.

Insurance to be cancelled when debt is paid or property transferred. When a borrower died the debt would be cancelled by the insurance. Nothing new or impractical. Charge an average rate for all borrowers. Based on my 30 year of practical experience, one per cent should be sufficient.

J. W. ESTES.

Los Angeles, October 13, 1933.

Editor, Register.

Dear Sir:

We beg of you, to give space in your paper to the letter sent to Governor James Rolph, President Roosevelt and to Campbell MacCulloch of the State Recovery Board Administration, as follows:

"The Confederation of Mexican Labor Unions protests for the human and criminal way the laborers are being treated in the Valley of San Joaquin.

"The laborers' families were put out of the camps by the owners of the ranches. Some of the laborers were killed, having been shot through their backs; without having committed any crime, and because the Mexican laborers respect the laws of this country.

"This Confederation asks protection for the laborers of the Valley of San Joaquin, like human beings.

"We hope they will get the protection asked, being residents of the most civilized nation of the world.

Yours sincerely,
Confederation De Uniones Obreras Mexicanas, Gen. Secy., Pascual S. Rodriguez.

DIVISION OF WATER BANKS IS REPORTED

An internal battle in viewpoint over water matters in San Bernardino has developed. It was learned today, following the issuance of a statement by City Attorney William Guthrie, of San Bernardino, in which he said he was not in accord with the position of certain members of the water department.

The city attorney said he was not in accord as to legal matters involving the suit of the Irvine Ranch company of Orange county against water interests in the upper basin. He declared he would not permit default in the suit by the city, a party of the suit, nor would he agree to any compromise that would prevent the city from erecting works to protect the city from damage by floods in Lytle creek.

The Irvine company has brought a suit for an injunction to prevent the city of San Bernardino and various other water users in Lytle creek and other tributaries of the Santa Ana river from spreading water on the grounds it prevents lands in Orange county receiving water to which title is claimed.

In his statement, the city attorney stated that a default would lose rights of San Bernardino to 300 inches of surface flow of Lytle creek. "I shall not agree to any compromise that would tie the hands of San Bernardino and prevent flood control in Lytle creek."

In a previous statement issued, W. P. Rowe, a member of the water commission of San Bernardino, had termed what is called "flood control" in the section, "water hogging."

STORE EXECUTIVES REVEAL CONFIDENCE IN S. A. MANAGER

Following the recent announcement made by the Nichols Dollar Stores, Incorporated, that G. A. Scott, vice president of Nichols Dollar Stores, Incorporated, had assumed the general management of the entire chain, a rumor became current that the manager of the Santa Ana Nichols store, James F. Fisher, had been transferred.

According to J. C. Nichols, president of Nichols, Incorporated, this rumor is without foundation. In denying it he said: "No doubt many of our customers and friends in Santa Ana misconstrued the announcement of the entrance of G. A. Scott into the active general management of Nichols Dollar Stores as affecting the local management of our store. This is not true. We value Mr. Fisher as one of our most able and loyal executives and he remains as manager of our local store. Nevertheless the concern shown by so many of our Santa Ana customers was a source of great pride to us in their demonstration of their high regard for Mr. Fisher."

G. A. Scott, vice president of Nichols, added to this statement the following: "My assumption of the general management of Nichols Dollar Stores will result in no executive changes. We are perfectly satisfied and happy with the men who now represent us in the various cities in which we operate stores. I agree with Mr. Nichols that Mr. Fisher is one of our most valued managers and I am also aware that Mr. Fisher possesses both a personal affection and a civic pride for Santa Ana, that together with the fact that Santa Ana is one of our most successful stores makes any change farthest from our thoughts."

Fullerton Junior college debaters will travel to Chaffee December 8 to debate on the negative side of the question.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

MERCHANTS TO PLAY RADIATOR TEAM SUNDAY

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Seeking to avenge a 9 to 8 setback, John Francis Lemon will send his Fullerton Merchants against the colorful Star Radiator nine at the Fullerton Baseball stadium, Highland and Commonwealth avenues, tomorrow afternoon. This afternoon Fullerton played Bus Callan's All-Stars.

Although the Merchants hammered the offerings of Nick Machado, veteran Texas-Arizona leaguer for 14 base blows, the Radiator nine bunched their 11 hits effectively to defeat Errol Stoner, husky Olive right hander, and Clifford Perry.

It is likely that Machado and Stoner will tangle in a mound duel tomorrow.

Fullerton's infield has been hit by Nataniel Cupid, strike-out specialist, who has two strikes on Verne Wilkinson, catcher; Burton Goodrich, key stone cushion shortstop; and Ward Sheldon, shortstop. This together with the likelihood that Fritz Gunther and Otto Brandie, outfielders, and Richard Joyce, third baseman, may be absent throws the entire burden on the mound staff.

MRS. H. I. SPENCE SOCIETY HOSTESS

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Halsey I. Spence entertained Thursday, members of the Presbyterian Missionary society at a tea at her home on Brookdale avenue, where J. H. Wylie was speaker of the afternoon, bringing a message on "Chinese Friends." Miss Minnie Morse brought a message, in form of readings, on "The Negro" and Mrs. H. B. Switzer made the announcement that on November 16 a group of seven persons will present a play at the church.

At the close of the session, Mrs. Spence served refreshments to the guests.

Attending were Mrs. Switzer, Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. Ella Smith, Mrs. H. Haffil, Mrs. H. E. Johnson, Mrs. G. H. Chesley, Mrs. Earl Williams, Mrs. Graham Hunter, Miss Suzanne Dean, Mrs. Bernard Davis, Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, Mrs. C. R. Allen, Mrs. E. M. Cooper, Mrs. C. S. Kerr, Mrs. A. C. Terrill, Mrs. J. P. FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—In her discussion of "The Passing Glimpse and Authors I Have Met," Mrs. J. Selby Spurr, state chairman of literature, yesterday expressed to members of Fullerton Ebell club that a great value is gleaned from meeting people who are active in creative work.

She told of meeting many authors of note, including Rupert Hughes, Kathleen Norris, Gertrude Atherton and others, and related many anecdotes of her contacts with famous persons.

Mrs. Maline, state chairman of American homes, was introduced. Mrs. Floyd Annin presided at the business session, where delegates to the county convention, Buena Park, October 27, were elected. They are: Mrs. O. M. Thompson, Mrs. Leonore Canning, Mrs. H. L. Wilbur, Mrs. Alice Whitaker, Mrs. H. L. Parry and Mrs. Irene Jarvis. Alternates are Miss Gertrude De Gelder, Mrs. E. C. Gravett, Mrs. Graham Hodges, Mrs. A. H. T. Osborne and Mrs. C. A. Butler. The president was empowered to appoint delegates for the Southern District convention at La Jolla.

Mrs. Agnes Purnell, secretary of the state federation was introduced. Announcements of section and department meetings included the arts and crafts with Mrs. Purdy November 18; the music section will meet with Mrs. Gregory Tuesday; Mrs. Daisy Reese will entertain the study section October 25; the home economics section will meet at the clubhouse October 27; Mrs. Gus Leander will entertain the garden section November 16; the drama section will meet at the clubhouse Friday, November 10, and the executive board will meet Monday at the clubhouse.

Hostesses yesterday served tea at the close of the lecture. The club rooms were decorated with baskets of flowers. Hostesses were Mrs. Clara Roberts, chairman; Mrs. Clyde Kelley, Mrs. H. J. Kelley, Mrs. Albert Launer, Mrs. Charles O. Petty and Mrs. E. Dow Hoffman.

LEGION GROUPS IN DINNER ON TUESDAY

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Preceded by a pot luck supper, members of the Fullerton American Legion auxiliary will meet at the Legion hall Tuesday. Mrs. Florence Smith, area president, and Mrs. Edna Oplinger, district president of the auxiliary, will be present. Members of the Legion will attend the supper. The posts and auxiliary will separate for a business session. All are asked to bring a vegetable dish for supper.

Auxiliary Holds Luncheon, Party

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Mrs. H. L. Wilbur won the prize Thursday in the second of a series of card parties the auxiliary of Fullerton American Legion post is sponsoring at the Legion hall in Hillcrest park.

COVINA COLTS BEAT INDIANS BY 13-6 SCORE

FULLERTON, Oct. 21.—Ted "Butter" Gorrell's Covina Colts kept their unblemished record by eliminating Donald C. Crulekshank's Fullerton Union High school Indians in the "freelance league" elimination tourney, 13 to 6 at Covina yesterday.

Fullerton nearly pulled the contest from the fire as the minutes ticked away and had they been granted another play, it is possible that they might have tied the score. In five plays the Indians marched 67 yards to the four-yard line, where the gun ended the contest.

Statistical tables for the game reveal that the Colts made nine first downs to the Indians' eight, but Fullerton gained 23 yards to the winners' 204. While Covina made 150 yards on running plays, Fullerton's aerial attack netted 95.

Unable to gain consistently through the line or around the wings, Fullerton took to the air repeatedly. So did the Colts. Most of the scoring could be traced to forward passing.

After a scoreless first quarter during which Joe Herbert and Captain Jack Howard put on a remarkable kicking exhibition, the Indians registered their tally.

Herbert tossed a 30-yard pass to George Johnson, and Harold "Weasel" Stedman, on an end-around, brought the leather with in scoring distance, with Captain James Jewett shooting an 11-yard pass to Stedman for the touchdown.

A series of flat southpaw passes from Billie Greene brought the ball to the five-yard line, where an off-side penalty on Fullerton placed the ball on the one-yard line from where Howard scored for the Colts.

Encouraged by their tally, the Colts became frisky to drive 55 yards to their second touchdown. Ernie Poore, line smashing full-back, and Greene were featured in this drive, terminating with Howard packing the ball over from the goal line. Poore kicked the extra point.

The lineup:

Johnson L.E.R. Hege
Basabe L.T.R. Kurtz
Ridgeway L.G.R. Pavello
Whitfield C. Milne
Mayfield R.G.L. Laswell
Lauterborn R.T.L. Jensen

LEERY
Officials of the American Federation of Labor have gathered the goods on chieftains against the Blue Eagle in literally thousands of cases.

Local Compliance Boards are struggling manfully with the situation but so far have failed to hang up over many horrible examples for public scorn.

Presumably these public-spirited citizens serving without pay are leery of falsely accusing a next-door neighbor.

One of the flagrant cases reported to the A. F. of L. involves a company manufacturing two-for-a-nickel cigars.

No sooner had the company signed a code than it raised the price of its cabbage to 3 for a dime.

Then they set underpaid girls to working over-time pasting Blue Eagles on the boxes.

SWEATING

In another instance organized labor and the local Compliance Board are definitely at odds.

Employees of a factory in a middle western town struck against pay and working conditions. Officials of the union dipped into the matter. They said they found conditions in the factory, sanitary and otherwise, pretty awful. They also reported the workers had been getting so little pay it would be a crime to touch them for union dues.

Union organizers were told not to take a nickel but to stand by for all the aid and comfort possible.

The chairman of the Compliance Board made an inspection of the factory.

She - the chairman being a woman - gave the plant a complete bill of health and called on public opinion to force the men back to work.

Union leaders whisper madame chairman is the wife of a man who is financially interested in the disputed factory.

EASTMAN

Behind newspaper print Railroad Administrator Joseph B. Eastman finds himself stumped.

Appointed to office originally for the purpose of effecting economies and consolidations in railroad operation, Eastman soon found that the very law creating his job prevented any new dealing.

The clause making it mandatory that the carriers shall not reduce their personnel below May totals is the stumbling block. Terminals couldn't be consolidated and track abandoned without laying off men.

So the rail boss is quietly contenting himself with a survey of what he could do if the law let him. Also he is studying the possibility of reforms in purchase of equipment, etc.

When Congress comes back he'll have a fat report for their guidance in drafting permanent railroad legislation.

Those at his elbow say Eastman will push for stiff charges in the law as is.

RAILS

Steel men are in a quandary over the coming sale of a million tons of steel rail to the railroads as inspired by the government.

Rail now sells around $40 a ton. Administrator Eastman, acting as Federal go-between, told the steel men he thought $35 would do very nicely but hoped it would be lower still.

The price is to be set by competitive bid.

Eastman warned against any collusion.

Then he let out that the lowest price quoted was to be the figure for all concerned.

Maybe there'll be no collusion but if there isn't human nature has taken an upward turn.

BIFF

The Kahki Shirts got biffed at the District Line the other day when they advanced on the capitol to make a dictator of F. D. R. It was slightly different from the reception of the famous first bonus army.

That outfit met by escorts, taken to specially provided camps and otherwise pampered for weeks.

This was under the gentler regime of General Pelham Glassford as Washington's chief of police.

Seemingly Inspector Burke, head of the detective bureau, who handled the recent crisis has more of the old school in him.

Local reporters were extremely charitable in their accounts of what took place when the potential fascists attempted to invade Washington. In their favor it must be recorded that newspapers can't print all the blue and chilly language that sparked at the District Line.

Inspector Burke met this Mexican Army, all of them officers, and said in effect: "Listen, you birds. The Philadelphia police raided your headquarters and found a couple dozen guns to say nothing of blackjacks, razors and other little things. The City of Washington will have no traffic with a bunch like you. Now get the hell out!"

The Kahki Shirts gave the Inspector a Fascist salute, turned into their trucks and high-balled back in the direction of Baltimore.

NOTES

A. F. of L. officials have actual pay envelopes in their possession as proof of code chiseling.

Some of them contained $7 and $8 for working weeks ranging from 48 to 54 hours.

Emil E. Hurja, Administrative Assistant in Public Works, is an authority on Andrew Jackson.

He has in his possession a number of as yet unpublished manuscripts concerning this figure of history. . . Marquis James, the biographer, is haunting Hurja's office these days while compiling a new tome on Jackson. . . Attorney General Cummings thought he hit on a swell plan to bottle up the country's most desperate gangsters by sending them to Alcatraz prison.

San Franciscans don't agree with him, fearing that the entourage of these hoodlums will make headquarters in their city. . . "Why not put them out in Santa Barbara channel with the wild goats?" they ask.

WAR
Men who are gradually taking over affairs - those in the late thirties and early forties - expect to see Fascism and Communism at death-grips in their time of authority.

The best informed are predicting open war by Japan on Soviet Russia and Soviet China within the next few months. Manchukuo will be used as the operating front. That fiat nation has few treaties and no history to cramp the plans of military leaders. Japan will provide the leaders. The plans have long been set.

The principles of Fascism are native to the Nipponese. The Emperor has more power to bestow on the man of the hour than Victor Emmanuel could give Mussolini or Hindenburg transfer to Hitler.

Nazi leaders - military and industrialist - understand this well. No westerners do better in the Orient than the Germans. They click there.

Promoting the Japanese attack on Sovietism is a patriotic duty and a profit-making business for the Nazis. The supplying of war materials is a lousy trade now. The possibilities under an iron peace make threats of western boycotts the menace of a wooden sword. And in such a war is seen the first step toward forming an anti-Soviet front in Europe. Germany intends to organize that front.

MAILS

Withdrawal from the League and reentry on a haughty basis may hamstring a German business nightmare.

Industrial spying is a fine art in Europe but the game has rules. Opening competitors' letters in transit breaks one of these. All the evidence has been gathered to prove that it is done on a well-organized scale in Germany. This is no secret to those concerned.

Several firms in Denmark found their mail from Warsaw three days slower than a year ago. Metal clips in such letters showed rust-spots on the paper - an almost certain sign of steam having been applied. Further tests showed two layers of gum on flaps of envelopes passing through the German Post Office. There was but one layer where other routes were used.

A far-flung investigation followed. The proof of indefensible espionage was about to be presented to the League of Nations when -

JOBS

Applicants for work in England are being sent by the labor exchanges to the arsenals.

Munitions work for the unemployed is one solution for a grave problem. Figures show it is working out well. But to have it developed while the disarmament conference was sitting suggests the right hand may not know what the left is at.

But our well informed bankers doubt that.

The Imperial Chemical Industries of Britain have also been a help to the jobless.

They have been advertising for a research physiologist. The only applicants to be given serious consideration have all been experts in respiratory physics. They are the boys who know how to check up on the effects of poison gases on the breathing processes.

INSIDE

Returning to the American scene:

If you want to get a contract for supplies to be sold to the Post Office Department New York politicians will tell you how to do it. Take a trip here and call on Mr. Finnegan. He's the bit-timer in the General Builders Supply General Farley's brother-in-law.

The P. G. formerly had the outfit. He is also Postmaster Finnegan job.

CROWDED

Millions to be made in liquor! That's what the clever guys tell the bankers. Then they want to borrow money to prove it. An amazing number of folks seek to cash in on repeal.

But the bankers tell the applicants to choose a less crowded field.

Production Credit Association Not Anticipated Here

Orange county probably will not apply for formation of a Production Credit association here, according to Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg. He said that at a recent meeting of the Rural Credits committee it was decided that for the present the Regional Credit corporation will be able to care for all needs in this county.

The Production Credit corporation, one of the 12 provided by the Farm Credit act passed by Congress last June, makes available the major portion of the capital for the creation of credit associations.

NEW UNIT OF TOASTMASTERS IN FIRST MEET

First program meeting of the second chapter of Toastmasters club was held Thursday evening at James', with an attendance of nearly 30 and with a reported membership of 24 in the new club.

Ralph Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and originator of Toastmaster club here nine years ago which now has become the first club in Toastmasters International, was made honorary member of the new club, parliamentarian, and general critic and instructor for the members. The secretary, Ernest S. Wooster, was directed to apply for membership in the International.

Lewie Williams, toastmaster for the evening in the new club's first program, introduced as his speakers Eddie Weidner, who spoke on the telephone system of the country, its ideals, achievements and procedure, together with new devices used; C. B. Whitney, who spoke on "Leadership" and listed the qualities or qualifications necessary to a leader; Max Hauschild, who gave reasons for adding him to become a member; H. Edwin Whipple, who told of Mexico's progress as observed by him during a residence in Mexico of 18 months; and Fred Eley, treasurer of the International, who spoke on "Community Assets" and the benefit that may be salvaged from the depression.

Critics were Harry LeBar, Ralph Smedley, Robert Speed, Paul Roberts and Don Rice, with A. G. "Doc" Green as general critic.

FINAL RITES FOR DR. FREDERICK POPE SCHEDULED MONDAY

Funeral services for Dr. Frederick S. Pope, 70, will be held from the Church of the Messiah, Episcopal, Monday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. W. J. Hatter, rector of the church, officiating. Services will be in charge of the Winbiger Funeral home, 609 North Main street.

Dr. Pope, resident of Santa Ana for the past 10 years, died yesterday following a brief illness. He was on the staff of various hospitals in the county and was a member of the Orange County Medical association.

In England, Dr. Pope was a member of the Royal Medical College of Surgeons and of the Licentiate Royal College of Physicians, an examining board.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Pope, 724 South Broadway; one brother, William C. Pope, London, England, and one sister, Mrs. Jane Westington, Oakland, Calif.

Following the funeral services, private cremation will take place.

PAWNSHOP BROKERS AND JUNK DEALERS UNDER NEW LAW

Pawnshop brokers and junkshop dealers were applying to the county clerk for licenses to operate in the unincorporated areas of the county today, the first day after the new county ordinance 318 went into effect making it mandatory for the registration of all such persons.

The board of supervisors passed the new ordinance following similar action by Los Angeles authorities. Under the new regulations, tracing of stolen goods will be greatly simplified because junk dealers will be required to make regular reports of goods received. Failure to report to the county clerk will make a dealer liable to a six months' jail sentence or a $500 fine or both. Dealers are warned that registrations must be made immediately.

Property Held By State To Be Sold

Property in Orange county which has been foreclosed and the title of which is with the state will be sold here from the offices of A. R. Redler, real estate broker from the office of Fred DuBois, Los Angeles, at offices to be opened in Santa Ana Sunday.

The property, which includes homes, business property, apartments and acreage including 27 communities in Orange county, will be sold subject to the approval of the California superior court through offices of the Liquidating department of California Building and Loan Commissioner Elynd W. Richardson.

more fluid credit to agricultural interests.

The purpose of these credit associations, according to Wahlberg, is to make loans to farmers for the specific purpose of producing and harvesting crops, breeding, raising and fattening of livestock and production of livestock and poultry products. The Berkeley corporation, serving this district, is capitalized for $7,500,000.

SENIOR LEAGUE MEMBERS HOLD BRIDGE PARTY

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—Miss Irene Schroeder gave a talk on "Luther and the Reformation" at a meeting of the Senior League held at the St. John's church last night. When more than 100 young people gathered at the Walker Memorial hall for a short business session and an evening of bridge.

The entertainment was in charge of Miss Myrtle Schaefer, Miss Esther Bandick, Nelson Struck, Lawrence Batteman, Miss Ethel Prizes and Miss Lucille Meyer. Prizes at the bridge game went to Carl Bosch and Miss Helen Drinkern, high, and Miss Ada Eckhoff and Miss Irene Schroeder, low. Relay games were played as well as bridge.

The hall was decorated in orange and black and a Halloween motif was carried out in the appointments for the tables when a refreshment course was served.

During the evening a revised constitution was read and a vote on its adoption will be taken at the November meeting of the group. Arthur Brase is the chairman in charge of the revision. It was announced that an officers' conference for Walther leagues of this district will be held in Long Beach November 19. Carl Schroeder presided. The recreation committee announced that a horseback and bicycle party is being planned for the near future at Irvine park.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE PRESENT FOR P. T. A. ENTERTAINMENT; TWO SHORT PLAYS PRESENTED

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—One of the outstanding programs of the year was presented to a capacity audience in the Orange union high school last night under the auspices of the Center street P. T. A. and the sophomore class of the Orange union high school. Mrs. Audrey Lebell, Peterson, president of the Center street P. T. A., introduced the master of ceremonies, Andy Anderson. Art Cannon, popular pianist, delighted the audience with several piano numbers, and also accompanied Andy Anderson, tenor, who sang "Song of Songs."

Of interest on the program were several song and tap-dance numbers presented by dainty little Miss Betty Blossom Goble and Junior Kavanagh. Both children are well known as entertainers in Orange and Los Angeles county. They presented one number in which the old fashioned and the modern dance were compared.

Miss Louise Goble, clever tap dancer, gave an interpretation of a military tap dance in a becoming costume of white satin. She was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Galene Goble.

The cloverleaf quartet, composed of Mark Hare, first tenor; Mark Brown, second tenor; Bill Fox, baritone; and Rutherford Williams, bass, gave several original interpretations, accompanied at the piano by Miss Esther Vogt. Miss Myrtle Martin, head of the music department of the Santa Ana high school and junior college, directed.

During intermission, Art Cannon and his orchestra played several numbers.

A one-act play, "To Quack or Not to Quack," was presented by the Santa Ana Community Players, with Joe Peterson taking the part of Dr. Graves, Dorothy Forgy taking that of Mrs. Graves, and Irma Huffman May, the part of Mrs. Helen Sage.

Joe Kossina played several selections on the banjo, including a novelty number, in which he imitated two banjos. He was accompanied in two of his numbers by Art Cannon and his orchestra. One of the cleverest features on the program was a magical act presented by Floyd Stewart.

A play, "Ho, Kritis," written by Val Clark of Santa Ana was presented, with the following taking part: Bill Courtney, Janet Roby, Joe Peterson, Florence Richmond, J. Parley Smith, Edith Cornell, Clara Kate Owens, Robert Deu Free and Leslie Stephenson.

Mrs. Peterson announced the winners of the several prizes offered for selling tickets. Alina worth Burkett, who sold 77 tickets, and Lydia Mueller and Juanita Stanfield, who each sold 75, were given subscriptions to the high school annual.

Mrs. Otis Miller was presented with a bridge lamp for selling over 100 tickets. Mrs. Warren Case won a basket of groceries.

The third grade children of Center street school won a huge cake for the room selling the most tickets. It was announced that they will have a party, with the cake as the main course Monday after school.

MEXICAN TRAINING SCHOOL PLANNED

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—Plans for the establishment of a leadership training class for teachers in the Mexican Methodist Sunday school were made at a meeting of the Latin-American board this week. Mrs. Emma Pruitt presided at the meeting.

The Rev. A. C. Escobosa, Mexican mission pastor, reported that a difficulty had been found in obtaining teachers for the Sunday school and that a decision had been reached to train Mexican men and women for the work.

Otis, treasurer of the group, stated that all bills and payments due on projects sponsored by the board had been paid. The board is making payments on the building used as social center at El Modena.

A Bible pageant will be presented by the Mexican people of the El Modena and Orange centers. It was announced. Christmas plans already are being made, it was revealed.

Movie Comedian and Orange Girl Get License Today

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—A license to wed was expected to be issued today in Ventura to Buster Keaton, film comedian, and Mrs. Mae Scriven Hawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Scriven of this city. The couple filed an intention to wed at Ventura Wednesday.

Mrs. Hawley and Keaton were first married in Ensenada, Mex., on January 8, last, but this was before a divorce granted in this city to his first wife, Natalie Talmadge Keaton, became final. The decree was final about a month ago.

Accompanied by friends, they appeared at the courthouse in Ventura and sought to keep their identification a secret. In filing the notice with Clerk Julien Hathaway, the comedian gave his name as Joseph Frank Keaton, 38 years of age, and she described herself as Mae Scriven Hawley, 28. They gave the same address, 1151 Queensbury Drive.

DEATH CALLS PROPHECY TALK; GEO. BECKMAN; ARRANGED FOR RITES OCT. 24 CHURCH SUNDAY

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—George J. Beckman, 62, manager of the Alpha Beta store in the city for 12 years, dropped dead at LaVerne yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was learned here today. Beckman left Orange last year to establish himself in the grocery business in that city. He had not complained of illness and his death shocked his many friends of this community.

Mr. Beckman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jennie C. Beckman, two sons, Jack Edward, who was associated with his father in the grocery business; and Harold Lewis, who arrived in Brazil, South America, two days ago, on mining business. While a resident here Mr. Beckman was an active member of the Rotary club and on moving to LaVerne, he joined the Lions club of that city.

It is probable that funeral services will be held at the Gilgilly Funeral chapel Tuesday. An inquest was held today at Pomona. Mr. Beckman had been engaged in the grocery business for 45 years.

STATE CLUB HEAD TO ATTEND MEETING

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—The president of the California State Federation of Women's clubs, Miss Josephine Seaman, of La Jolla, will pay the first of two visits to this city Wednesday, when she will be the speaker at a tea at the Woman's clubhouse in honor of the Girl Reserves of the city and the Y. W. C. A. groups.

Mrs. Walter F. Kogler is in charge of the program and a large number of women of the community are expected to be present to greet Miss Seaman.

Miss Seaman was born and educated in England and for two years following her graduation from college, she became a M. I. M. deaconess working in the poorest sections of London for two years. She spent three years in India, a number of years in China as a teacher in mission schools, and for three years was in charge of an Eurasian school in China.

The state president was connected with Y. W. C. A. work for six years in New York, where she became a citizen of the United States.

On Monday evening the committee on survey and program will have its first meeting in Epworth hall at 7:30 o'clock. This committee represents every organized group of the church, and it is planned to have it make a careful and thorough study of all the activities of the church, to face its responsibility to the community and eventually to formulate a five-year program for the entire church. Dr. Dunning states.

SEPT. 29 ONLY DATE OPEN ON S. C. SCHEDULE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(INS)—The University of Southern California has little choice in the matter of playing St. Mary's in 1934 unless the game is played September 29, the only open date on the schedule, according to Arnold Eddy, graduate manager.

Coach Howard Jones touched off a prairie fire when he intimated at Sacramento while en route to Portland that St. Mary's might be dropped from the Trojans' schedule next year.

St. Mary's is regarded as too tough an opponent for an "open."

Here is the Trojan 1934 schedule:

September 29—Open.
October 6—Washington State here.
October 13—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.
October 20—Oregon State here.
October 27—Stanford at Palo Alto.
November 3—No game to be scheduled.
November 10—California at Los Angeles.
November 17—Oregon at Los Angeles.
November 24—Washington at Seattle.
December 8—Notre Dame at Los Angeles.

AND NEW FACES

Ashkenazy is a college man—University of Florida—and it seems to me that he represents a new school of cauliflower. Frank Moran and his "Mary Ann," as he called that favorite roundhouse swing of his, were easy to understand. Chuck Wiggins, who regularly put the Indianapolis police force to rest during his off hours, was an easy man to know.

But now we have Carnera, a world champion, speaking Latin; a challenger named Ray Impellitteri, and a heavyweight named Ashkenazy, with wild eye and tangled locks, dashing from the ring to finish a ballad about Melissa, or perhaps to finish his reading of Chapman's Homer or the deeds of Pelles or Absalom or what have you?

How are you going to understand boys like these?

BLOND ANGLE

In the west and far west the Nordic football touch is profoundly respected. . . . with such slashing Swedish heroes as Olson of Northwestern, Lindberg of Illinois, Nyquist of Chicago, Lund of Minnesota and Norgaard of Stanford. . . . repeating the deeds of Big Swede Oberlander of dear Dartmouth memory.

STADIA TOO BIG

The city of Cleveland, which had been pointing with pride to its magnificent municipal stadium, on the Erie lakefront, started to view it with alarm the other day when the Bradley boys, acting in behalf of the Indians, announced the club would return to old Dunn field next year. . . . the stadium was so big a ball team got lost in it. . . . seeing a game there was like watching one in the movies. . . . besides it didn't pay to have all that idle real estate on the East Side.

FOOTBALL CODE?

Collegiate football seems to be about the only class without an N.R.A. code. . . . they tell for the profit of their schools unquestioningly. . . . not only that but work at odd jobs so they may buy the bodily fuel necessary to keep them going. . . . Big Ten coaches hinted at training tables for the athletes that they might better supervise the young men's mess. . . . but George Huff, Illinois athletic director, somberly demurred with the interesting observation that a training table would be "the first step toward paying football players."

WHAT A FIGHTER?

Nothing less than a bombshell burst in the offices of Jimmy Johnston at Madison Square Garden the other day when Paul Damski, Jewish manager of the German heavyweight, Walter Neusel, offered to let Walter fight anybody. . . . In a day when managers go about with microscopes picking spots for their bums, Paul Damski's courage shies as a good deed.

16,000 ACRES TO BE FLOODED

ALTON, Ill. (U.P.)—Approximately 16,000 acres of land in Missouri and Illinois is to be flooded, forming two lakes, under present plans which call for construction of a $10,000,000 dam and locks in the upper Mississippi River, proposed by the Federal government.

MADIGAN "PINCHED"

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—(UP)—His mind probably engrossed on generating speed on his St. Mary's football team, Coach "Slip" Madigan, apparently forgot about the speed of his automobile. At any rate, Officer Joe Jackson today claimed he apprehended the famous coach speeding on San Leandro boulevard at 55 miles an hour. He ordered Madigan to explain to a judge October 30.

WHO'S THE NEW COACH?

CHICAGO'S SHAUGHNESSY

Clark Shaughnessy must be named among the colorful coaches. . . . Rockne laughingly used to rank himself No. 1 colorful coach, and Shaughnessy No. 2. . . . The present University of Chicago mentor, former Loyola of the South and Tulane head, and graduate of the University of Minnesota is finally back in the Big Ten. . . . where he played all 11 positions for the Gophers. . . . and was named All-American, any position, by Chicago writers. . . . On one with his little Loyola team, Shaughnessy went north to play Notre Dame. . . . led at the half by a 6-0 score. . . . and was tied 6-6 at the last two minutes of play. . . . when Rockne rushed in seven quarterbacks for the last seven plays, practically running the game himself, to win, 12-6. . . . He's a clean liver, is "Shag" . . . never smokes or drinks. . . . and his only hobbies are football and a piano. . . . He was brought up the son of a St. Paul school teacher, and they hailed him as a prodigy on the keys. . . . It was he who invented an adequate defense against the Christian attack. . . . and explained to Major Ralph Sasse. . . . who used it with his Army team to stop the Irish hold. . . . He's a family man with three kiddies. . . . but to hear his pep talks between halves you'd never think so. . . . He sends out a raving, sobbing squad keyed up to lick teams outweighing it 20 pounds to the man. . . . Would not think of degrading his piano with jazz. . . . and spends his spare moment plunking out classic tunes. . . . and working out football plays to the rhythm. . . . Already the Maroons look better with Shag.

FOOTBALL NOW NO. 1 GAMBLING SPORT OF U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Uncle Sam could pay off a fair slice of the national debt if he could get the millions that change hands on football games every Saturday.

Jack Doyle, Sam Boston and other leading Broadway betting commissioners handle many thousands of dollars on individual games and some of the single bets are staggering.

These commissioners say more money is wagered on college football than on any other sport. The reason is that everybody and his brother bets on football. Where a tight fan won't bet on a polo game and a follower of polo won't care to wager on tennis on hockey, all of them think they can pick football winners.

Strangely enough, horsemen are among the biggest and most persistent gamblers on football. Fight fans also go for the college game in a big way and they all have their favorite college.

They will wager on anything—the number of downs made by either team, the yardage gained by running or passing or the score. Doyle already has received thousands of dollars from the coast to be bet on St. Mary's against Fordham and that game will not be played until November 4.

A few of the odds today: Princeton, 6 to 5 over Columbia; Notre Dame, 3 to 2 over Carnegie Tech; Illinois, 6 to 5 over Army; Yale, 3 to 2 over Brown; Michigan, 6 to 5 over Ohio State, 4 to 5 and take your pick, and Colgate, 7 to 5 over N. Y. U.

In the commissioners' opinion the reason professional gamblers like football so well is because it is the sport they feel absolutely sure is not only on the level, but one where both teams are giving the best they have at all times.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Floyd Blower of Santa Ana and California grid fame pronounces his last name to rhyme with flower.

The San Francisco Seals have signed Errol Stoner, young Olive pitcher, who was with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Paso Robles last spring.

Jack Stewart, basket-shooting hero of Santa Ana's powerful Jaycee basketball squad last year, is now enrolled at the University of Arizona.

Coach "Tex" Oliver called Paul Perinich, Don end, the hardest-hitting football player of his weight (150 pounds) he had ever coached.

"Bud" Hood's elevation to first string left guard, because of an injury to Saint Captain Underwood, brings to mind the same chance that came to Lefty Desmet in the Santa Ana-Long Beach game of '31. Andy Utick, regular left guard, was out that day with an injury and Desmet did so well as his substitute that Utick had a terrible time regaining his job.

Official figures reveal that Santa Ana's Dons drew exactly $1306.59 in their three night games at the Bowl. The S. C. Frosh opener grossed $736.40, instead of $704, announced semi-officially the morning afterward. Urban

'BOOTS' WEBER SLATED AS CUB PREXY. REPORT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Carl ("Boots") Weber, since 1906 secretary of the Los Angeles baseball team of the Pacific Coast league, is to become president of the Chicago Cubs of the National league succeeding the late William Veck.

Baseball circles here today were interested in such a report which indicated that P. K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, would make the official announcement at the board of directors meeting in Chicago Jan. 3.

Weber went to Chicago last week to attend a special meeting of Cub directors. From persons close to the Wrigley interests here it was declared this was a move which indicated higher-ups wanted him as the new president.

Weber's career has been highly colorful. He quit a job at a cigar counter in 1906 to assist Henry Berry, who had purchased the Angels for $5000.

Aside from being secretary of the Angels, Weber is business manager, vice president, and a director; and is a director of several other of the Wrigley companies.

WEATHER COLD BUT CLEAR FOR TROJANS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21.—(UP)—Clear, crisp weather was forecast for this afternoon when Southern California's national champion football team, attempts its 26th successive victory, meeting Oregon State in Multnomah stadium.

A cold fog hung high but the sun broke through before noon. A minimum temperature this morning of 38 degrees, the coldest night of the season, indicated a maximum at game-time of not over 60 degrees.

The field was hard and fast. U. S. C. was the overwhelming favorite today to defeat Oregon State and make the Orangemen their 26th consecutive football victim.

SPORTS BULLETINS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The Pittsburgh National league baseball club announced today it had retained George Gibson as manager for the 1934 season. The contract is for one year, club officials announced. Other terms were not divulged.

WHITEFISH, Mont., Oct. 21.—Many deer and elk hunters were feared to have been isolated in the mountains near here today by heavy snows that fell during a blizzard that swept this section of Montana Friday. Railroad crews cleared 18 inches of snow from the tracks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(INS)—The secret marriage three weeks ago of Edith Cross, ranking tennis player of the United States, and Dr. Carroll Jensen, young San Francisco dentist, was revealed today.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—(INS)—Bernie Bierman today denied reports that he had resigned his position as head football coach at the University of Minnesota.

Hansford Defeats Pena by Decision

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21.—(UP)—George Hansford, former Los Angeles high school student, administered a pair of knockdowns along with a defeat to Johnny Pena, New York Portuguese, in a 10-round feature bout at Hollywood Legion stadium last night.

The knockdowns came in the first and second rounds after which the New Yorker rallied to hold his own until the closing periods of the fight. The victory served to widen Hansford's reputation. Pena boasted a triumph over Fidel La Barba.

QUALIFYING BEGINS IN WILLOWICK GOLF

Qualifying rounds for the Willowick Golf club's annual fall tournament begin tomorrow, with all preliminary rounds to be completed October 31. One match will be played each week thereafter.

ARIZMENDI, SHEA MEET SOON

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Articles to meet in an Olympic match here Nov. 7 have been signed by Baby Arizmendi, Mexican featherweight and Eddie Shea, Chicago veteran, it was announced today.

REDLANDS GRIDDERS CONFERENCE LEADER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Redlands held a clean claim to the Southern California conference leadership today after La Verne had been toppled from the undefeated column by a powerful San Diego State squad.

Redlands annexed their third straight win by blanketing the lowly Santa Barbara eleven under a 28-0 score at Redlands. The Bulldogs blended a strong running and aerial attack on a smooth-working combination to pile up the heavy score.

San Diego's margin of victory was a single touchdown for a 6-0 verdict. The Aztecs were placed in scoring position in the second quarter when Merle Corrin, right half, reeled off a 23-yard run. Bill Bailey, fullback, went over from the 7-yard stripe for the score.

The triumph, giving the Aztecs two conference wins against a single tie, made them distinct title threats.

Capt. Bob Ackland was the difference between a tie and victory for Occidental college, fighting Caltech, its traditional foe, at Pasadena's Rose Bowl. Ackland dropped the extra point after goal to give the Tigers the contest, 7 to 6. Both scores came in the second quarter. An Occidental fumble on its 12-yard line paved the way for the Engineers' coupled down. An aerial attack coupled with a 15-yard penalty allowed the winners to score. The result was of little interest to conference standings as both teams have been defeated.

Pomona deserts conference territory tonight for a game with Fresno State at Fresno. Whittier, trailing San Diego in third place, rested this week-end.

TUSTIN UPSETS BREA, 12-6, IN FINAL QUARTER

Orange County league followers today were trying to solve the jig-saw puzzle which resulted from Friday's football results: Tustin, 12, Brea-Olinda 6; Anaheim 22, Huntington Beach 0; Newport Harbor 7, Garden Grove, 0.

Every school in the conference now has lost at least once and, with four more games remaining on the schedule, imaginative observers conceived the possibility of a five-way tie for the championship after final contests November 17. Many actually predicted a triple deadlock.

"Big Bill" Cole's Tustin Farmers Bill Cole

pushed over a touchdown in the last three minutes of play to win from Brea-Olinda, 12-6. The Tillers had been stopped on Brea's 5-yard line but the "Wildcats" kick-out was poor and Safety Dean Francis carried it back to the 20-yard line. Francis then passed to Jeff Richards on the 5-yard line, from where Tustin scored in three plays. Francis carried the ball each time, going to the 2-yard line, then the 1-yard line and finally crashing across through the middle.

Tustin intercepted a pass and was on its way to another score when the game ended with the ball on Brea's 9-yard mark.

Brea-Olinda tallied first, taking the ball on Tustin's 25-yard stripe by recovering a fumble on an end-around play. Ray Thompson fired a beautiful pass to Captain Ed Zeche who caught the ball on the 3-yard line and stepped across for a touchdown. The Wildcats tried a buck for the extra point but were stopped at the line of scrimmage.

Tustin tied it at 6-6 near the end of the second quarter after a 30-yard drive. Coach Cole sent Quarterback "Chuck" Forbes into the fray with the ball on the 5-yard line, and Forbes knifed off, tackled for a touchdown on the first play. Score: Tustin 12, Brea-Olinda 6.

WHAT WILL BAER SAY?

Primo Carnera, addressing a crowd assembled to greet him at his old home town, Sequia, Italy, took a deep breath and let go with this: Mens sana in corpore sano!

Aside from the angle that for a boxer to say "sound mind in sound body" might sound a bit like bragging, Carnera's quotation from the Latin may do something toward establishing a precedent for boxers called upon to speak to their followers. In such a situation I wonder what Maximilian Adelbert Baer would say to the multitude.

We may have to wait a while for that. But it is not entirely guesswork to predict that it will be something like: "Who was that lady you seen me with last night?"

IT'S A NEW NOTE

Boxing has been complicated lately by strange names and strange people. Harry Lenny, who used to untangle the fistie destinies of his protegee Paul Swiderski, the Sad-Eyed Pole, now hurds a challenge to the four impudences in behalf of one Ray Impellitteri. Where are the Frank Morans, Fred Fultons, Bill Brennans and Tommy Gibbonses of yesterday?

Not only do we have to contend with Impellitteri, but along comes Irving Ashkenazy to trouble our dreams. He is not only a boxer but he writes what he calls poetry, but he sells his stuff—though Irving admits that he gets more money for his uppercuts than for his odes.

AND NEW FACES

Ashkenazy is a college man—University of Florida—and it seems to me that he represents a new school of cauliflower. Frank Moran and his "Mary Ann," as he called that favorite roundhouse swing of his, were easy to understand. LEGION POST IN CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

LA HABRA, Oct. 21.—The La Habra post of the American Legion voted $5 for the purchase of the community Christmas tree in La Habra at this week's meeting. Plans for a community Christmas tree were launched a week or so ago by the Business Men's club. It is planned to erect the tree at the intersection of Hiatt and Central avenues. Other business taken up at the Legion meeting included the start of the membership drive.

Fred Siderbottom of Anaheim, state chairman of membership, was present and spoke concerning the membership drive. Abe Gottlieb of Fullerton, county chairman of membership, also spoke. Sterling M. Hood, local chairman of membership, selected E. M. Jackson and H. H. Peabody as two captains in the contest for members. The losing team will put on a dinner for the winners at the close of the contest.

E. N. Whittemore reported on the Halloween parade arrangements and stated that he had already collected something over $25 to be used for the purchase of prizes for the entrants.

Roy Stedman was chosen to take care of the flag service in the city, seeing that the flags are placed in their standards on all holidays and removed and stored away again at night.

L. E. Proud reported on the county council meeting held at Dana Point.

PRESENT PLAY AT SOCIETY MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Helen Walker, superintendent of women's missionary societies, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Missionary society of the Alamitos Friends church held in the home of Mrs. Lena Miles Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Veva Long as co-hostess.

Mrs. A. C. Stanley led devotions after which a play, "The Missionary Ghost," was presented. Mrs. Winifred Shackelford took the part of the ghost, while others in the cast were Mrs. Nettie Younger, Mrs. Camille Nichols, Mrs. Esther Mendelhall, Mrs. Elsie Broadly and Miss Jennie Hoover.

The November meeting will be held in the church, with husbands of the members as honored guests.

Those present were Mrs. Helen Walker and Mrs. George Taylor, of Whittier; Mrs. Floyd Smith, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Nina and Mrs. Welch guests of the afternoon; Mrs. Effie Swazey, Mrs. Camille Nichols, Mrs. Mattie Haywood, Mrs. Nellie Miller, Mrs. Nellie Benson, Mrs. Nellie Amos, Mrs. Marie Nichols, Mrs. Marie Barons, Mrs. Cora Hansler, Mrs. LaVina Rice, Mrs. Winifred Shackelford, Mrs. Stella Jones, Mrs. Nellie Younger, Mrs. Tennie Frichard, Mrs. Agnes Stanley, Mrs. Rosa Newsom, Mrs. Lena Mosier, Mrs. Esther Mendelhall, Mrs. Lila McClain, Miss Jennie Hoover, Mrs. Lila Jones, Mrs. Silver, Mrs. Alma Giles, Mrs. Elsie Broadly, Mrs. Lena Miles and Mrs. Veva Long.

EBELL TOLD OF YOUTH MOVEMENT

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 21.—Mrs. George Bunnell of Redlands, state chairman of International interests, speaking at the Ebell club meeting Thursday, said that a study of the youth movement reveals that the young people all over the world are rapidly coming to the front in the solution of world problems. Mrs. Bunnell called special attention to conditions now existing in Germany in comparison with Italy. Mrs. Willey gave instrumental solos, including "The Scarf Dance," by Chaminade; "Swan," by Palmgren, and "Impromptu," Schubert.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. A. H. Wilson, Mrs. Ida Naylor, and Mrs. Fred Briggs. Luncheon was served at the Newport Beach Yacht club.

Two new members, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. J. F. Wallace, were welcomed into the club. Mesdames Launter, Cloyes and Rosway of the California Federated News will be present at the next regular Ebell meeting on November 2.

Mrs. King Joslyn, the club president, was in charge of the meeting.

School Program Attracts Crowd

OCEANVIEW, Oct. 21.—The seating capacity of Oceanview school auditorium was taxed to capacity Thursday for the safety program. George Peterkin, state highway patrolman, showed pictures on the subject. Dr. Ralph Aves, of Huntington Beach, gave first aid lessons.

Eight Mexican boys and girls of Mrs. Reed's Stanton school presented several songs in Spanish. Seventh grade pupils of Oceanview pleased with three numbers.

7300 Newport Tax Bills Mailed Out by City Treasurer

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 21.—City Treasurer A. J. Gant has mailed out 7300 tax bills to owners of Newport Beach property. The bills total $509,572.33, a reduction of $58,158.79 over the amount billed last year.

Taxes become delinquent December 4 for the first half. The bills represent $204,231.65 for assessments and $299,340.67 for general taxes.

Following are the rates by districts: Municipal improvement district No. 1, $2.42; No. 2, $2.65; No. 3, $3.17; No. 4, $2.72; No. 5, $2.77, and Corona del Mar, $2.06. The section not included in municipal districts has a rate of $2.38.

PRESENT PLAY ON PROGRAM OF BEACH P.-T. A.

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 21.—A program of music, fancy dances and a play marked the initial P.-T. A. opening when a combination Halloween-Father's Day meeting was in the local Community church.

Three pupils of the Holly Lash Visel studio of Santa Ana, Miss Vivian Rogers, Miss Jean Arnold and Miss Jeanette Badman, gave the play, "The Lure of the Other Woman," Miss Marilyn Wallace, accompanied by Ray Wallace, gave tap dance numbers. Arthur Powell sang, "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," and "Come Back in Dreams," accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Willys.

Seventh grade pupils of the school sang, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf," accompanied by Miss Wilhelmina Breuer, teacher of the eighth grade pupils. Prof. H. O. Ensign, principal of the local elementary school, gave a talk, describing the present grading system used in the school. The plan is original with Mr. Ensign.

Following the program, Halloween games were enjoyed. Miss Marie Heffern and Miss Joy Wilson taking charge of the children. Mrs. C. M. Logan, assisted by Dorothy and Jeanette Bodman and Mrs. Lucy Marshall, was in charge of the adult activities in the main auditorium. Prize winners in the games were Robert Boyd, H. M. Davis, Conrad Shook, Frank H. Skipper, Mrs. A. S. Richardson, Mrs. Gladys Barnett, Mrs. E. H. Needham and Mrs. E. S. Dixon.

During the business session the P.-T. A. voted to sponsor a Cub Scout troop this year. On report of the high school board of trustees that an adult training course would be held again this winter if a sufficient number desire it, it was planned to make a canvass of the district for members. Working in co-operation with the local Ebell club in the carrying out of a rummage sale soon, an appeal was extended to the public for cast off articles. Those having articles to offer may call Mrs. Sparkes, P.-T. A. president, at Newport 327-1, or Mrs. J. R. McQuire, the publicity chairman at phone 99.

Mrs. Leo B. McGavren, hospitality chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Ray Wallace, Mrs. A. R. Hooker, Mrs. H. R. Kennell, Mrs. S. L. Hoke and Mrs. J. B. Parkes. The chairman of decorations, Mrs. R. D. Bronston, was assisted by Mrs. H. C. Howe and Mrs. M. B. Fobes. Mrs. Albert Sparkes, association chairman, presided.

'MINERS' TOPIC AS STUDY CLUB MEETS

LA HABRA, Oct. 21.—The Wednesday Morning Study club met this week at the home of Mrs. Henri Clayton on Ocean avenue, with 19 members present. Mrs. S. L. Treff was the leader and read a paper on "Miners of California." Mrs. Treff brought out the profiteering which went on in those days, when miners paid as high as $1000 per month for a hotel room in San Francisco and $1000 for transportation via boat to get to California.

Mrs. John W. F. Smith led the discussion on current events. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Espoit November 1, with Mrs. Grant A. Van Valin speaking on "California's Foreign Population." Mrs. Willis Threlkeld will present the current events.

Mrs. Owen Murray Hostess To Club

TUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Members of the Neighborhood club were pleasantly entertained Wednesday when they met in the home of Mrs. Owen A. Murray. Bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums decked the rooms. Following an afternoon devoted to sewing and fancywork, the hostess served salad, wafers and coffee.

Those sharing the hospitality of Mrs. Murray were Mesdames E. A. Watson, Hollis Lindsey, Roy Rannels, Frank H. Greenwood, Fenelon C. Matthews and Earl Sharpless.

HONOR TEACHER AT SOCIAL OF CHURCH GROUP

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 21.—Compiling the Rev. Mr. Greer of Fullerton, who recently came to become Bible class teacher at the Westminster Presbyterian church a social was held Thursday evening at the church hall. Several numbers were played by Mrs. Ed L. Hensley's orchestra at the beginning of the supper and afterward the teacher and Mrs. Greer, and the pastor, Dr. John Klene and Mrs. Klene were introduced by M. J. P. Heil.

Musicians of the evening included Mrs. Ed Hensley, cornet; Mrs. Vera Skinner, piano; Mrs. May Finley, saxophone; Jack Ryckman, drums. The social committee included Ethel Crane, Ruth Penhall and Mrs. Fred Cooke, school superintendent; Fred Cooke and M. J. P. Heil.

Joining in the social evening were the Rev. and Mrs. Greer, Dr. and Mrs. John Klene, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snadell, Mr. and Mrs. William Nankerville and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ryckman, Mrs. William Hannagan and two children; Mrs. Hanline, Mr. and Mrs. O. HALLOWE'EN PARTY PLANNED BY CLUB

LA HABRA, Oct. 21.—A Halloween costume party and treasure hunt was planned for the evening of October 27 by members of the Business Girls' club at their meeting held at the home of Miss Eucenia Arnold in La Habra Heights this week.

Marguerite Williams, president, announced the following committees for the party: Program, Julia Middleton, chairman; Margaret Thornton, Naomi Granger, Claudine Zumwalt, Marguerite Williams; refreshments, Ruth Dickey, chairman; Winifred Sutton, Gladys Sorben and Edith McClure; decorations, Eugenia Arnold, chairman, Elizabeth Akers and Bessie Ward; prize committee, Martha Iverson, chairman, Barbara Higgins and Lenora Graham.

Miss Katherine Woods of Fullerton talked on "Table Etiquette." Eugenia Arnold, chairman of the scrap book committee, stated that she had written letters to various hospitals and other organizations asking what kind of scrap books would be most welcome.

Julia Middleton, program chairman for the month of November, announced that she would be hostess November 14, at which time a potluck supper will be served at her home on East Florence avenue.

TWO WELLS SLATED IN RICHFIELD AREA

ATWOOD, Oct. 21.—Permits for two new wells in the Richfield section have been issued by the State Division of Oil and Gas. The Cook & Hess Oil company will drill Soderberg No. 2 and the Cal-Pen Oil company will drill its No. 1 well. In the same field the Continental Oil company will re-drill its Payne No. 4.

The M. H. Mosier company will re-drill its Brown No. 2 at Huntington Beach. In the same field the Wilshire Oil Company, Inc. will abandon its H. B. No. 12.

Howard E. Ludy Party Honoree

LA HABRA, Oct. 21.—Harold E. Ludy of North Cypress street, was honored twice this week on the occasion of his birthday anniversary. One evening, Mrs. Ludy entertained a group of friends, surprising her husband when a birthday cake was presented to him. A musical evening was enjoyed with Russell Thompson and his radio artists from Santa Ana playing Hawaiian music. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Shirley of La Habra gave vocal numbers.

Guests were Elmer Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Sherry and Paul Bixler of La Habra, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Elliott of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Oran Gullidge, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moritz, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Layton, Miss Ariel Thompson, Charles Hill and Russell Thompson, all of Santa Ana.

Mr. Ludy shared honors with Mrs. Mollie Hawes when Mrs. Ludy entertained for a birthday dinner. Guests at this affair were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Elliott of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ida Ludy of Whittier, mother of Mr. Ludy, Paul Bixner and Jean Ludy.

MESA CLUB ENJOYS PROGRAM; MUSICAL EVENT OCTOBER 23

COSTA MESA, Oct. 21.—Mrs. J. L. R. Daughenbaugh, three new members, Mrs. Harold Grauel, Mrs. H. E. Raymond and Mrs. Lois Wolfe, were welcomed into the club. Mrs. Harry Schick was elected to the board of directors. Mrs. Ray Stedman, Mrs. Gunning Butler and Mrs. Veda Carruthers were named as delegates to represent the Costa Mesa club at the mid-year convention at Buena Park on October 27. Alternates chosen were Mrs. Henry Abrams, Mrs. R. M. Day, and Mrs. Harry Thayer.

A luncheon was enjoyed at noon. The table decorations were in the form of harvest products, pumpkins, gourds, brightly colored peppers and corn, and fall flowers. The decorations were arranged by Mrs. James Tallman, most of the products coming from her garden.

Mrs. C. A. Custer, music chairman, announced a musical program for the afternoon of October 23. The club curator, Mrs. Andrew Mandary, will arrange the program, which is to include both vocal and instrumental selections by local talent.

Mrs. George Merrick was in charge of the luncheon and Mrs. J. L. Chase was hostess.

LIFE IN RUSSIA OUTLINED FOR BEACH SOCIETY CARD AFFAIRS

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 21.—Women of Russia are on an absolutely equal basis with men of that country. Mrs. Allen Austin, who has just returned from a stay of several months there, declared in a talk before the W. F. M. S. at Christ Church by the Sea, Thursday afternoon.

Under the old regime, before the revolution, about 90 per cent of the women of that country were among the peasant class and had very few privileges. The women today are living a very serious life, but are filling some of the most important positions in every line of work, she said.

The meeting was the first of the year for the local society and new officers were installed. They were: Mrs. R. E. Cox, president; Mrs. J. L. Berry, first vice president; Mrs. Flora Harris, second vice president; Mrs. J. A. Bodman, recording secretary; Mrs. Lenora Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Biddella Hall, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Bodman, secretary of literature; Mrs. Ball, Standard Bearers; Mrs. John Siegel, financial secretary; Mrs. Helen Ensign, chairman of extension work; Mrs. S. D. Percy, Light Bearer's leader; and Mrs. Alfred Smith, stewardship secretary. Mrs. Sara Bowman, Mrs. John Legg, Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. A. M. Nelson, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Ida Naylor, and Miss Emma Branstine will serve in the council of the society. The Rev. Russell Stroup performed the installation ceremony.

The treasurer's report revealed that $221 had been raised by the organization during the year, $45 more than was pledged. Tea was served to over 75 people by Mesdames A. S. Stowell, J. A. Bodman, J. L. Berry and the Mesdames Elizabeth Stowell and Jeanette Bodman.

The next card party will be held in the clubroom on November 1 and every one is invited. Mrs. Beulah Hamilton, publicity chairman, stated.

BUENA PARK CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

BUENA PARK, Oct. 21.—Election of officers held the attention of local Kiwanians following the regular dinner at the woman's clubhouse this week. Dr. R. D. Temple will serve as president. Stanley Kurtz, vice president; Herbert Bixby, re-elected treasurer, and Bob Warlamont, secretary. The board of directors is comprised of Dr. R. D. Temple, Stanley Kurtz, Ed Marxen, Joe Sullivan, James Dunbar, Henry Osbourne, Homer Krebs, Bert Wells, George Trapp, Carl Brenner and Frank Cooley.

The speaker for the evening was R. A. Goodell, who gave an interesting description on conditions in China. At the next regular meeting on October 25, women's night will be observed, and local members will motor to Whittier to hear the open forum contest. Stanley Kurtz will represent Buena Park Kiwanis club.

Mrs. Ruth Doty Is Luncheon Hostess

BREA, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Ruth Doty, president of the Brea unit of Legion auxiliary, entertained several members of the unit at her home at Stewart Station this week. A "depression" luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and the remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing bridge.

Present in addition to the hostess were Mrs. Mary Crowe, Mrs. Grace Nelson, Mrs. Elsie Aggraffe, Mrs. Cecile Finch, Mrs. Ella Stumbo, Mrs. Calla Winger, Mrs. Viva Gesme, Mrs. Vivian Nicodemus and Mrs. Ruth Templeman.

Mrs. Winger was awarded for holding high score and Mrs. Nicodemus for second high score.

'ENVIRONMENT' TOPIC AS BREA P.-T. A. MEETS

BREA, Oct. 21.—Judge Homer G. Ames, Santa Ana, for the past seven and a half years at the head of the juvenile court, addressed the Brea P.-T. A. this week, speaking on the subject "Neighborhood Environment."

Judge Ames said that the home is the primary element in environment and that perhaps the second and greatest influence is the neighborhood gang. Poverty, overcrowding of homes, unattractive homes, defective discipline, lack of recreation, parents and guardians lacking in sympathy and understanding of the vagaries of youth, all these, he said, contribute their share in sending adolescent boys and girls to the juvenile court.

The speaker was presented by Mrs. Glenn Jones, program chairman. The program opened with the grammar school orchestra playing two numbers, being directed by Champion Nixon.

Mrs. Frank Bickel, president of the association, presided at the business meeting and announced a teachers' party at the high school on the evening of October 25, opening with a 5:30 o'clock dinner. Members are to take cooked vegetables and salads, the association to supply the meat, rolls and coffee. Mrs. Arthur Sullivan will head the kitchen committee, Mrs. M. L. Ward the dining room committee and Mrs. Guy McIntyre and her group will have charge of entertainment.

Mrs. Bickel announced that the P.-T. A. will sponsor an entertainment which will feature the Ranch Boys.

Miss Dorothy Boyce's room for Laurel grammar school, and Miss Mammie Ward's room for Brea school, won the attendance record and secured the bowls of goldfish for the coming month.

MRS. ALICE STEVENS BIRTHDAY HONOREE

BREA, Oct. 21.—The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Alice Stevens presented an opportunity for several of her friends to honor her with a surprise shower Thursday afternoon at her home in the Casa Brea Inn. Many lovely handkerchiefs and a handsome birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Gretta Lackey, were given the honoree.

Guests present were Mesdames Carrie Burdick, A. E. Vinnege, Lucy Siblethall, Gretta Lackey, Luella Cox, E. E. Hyder, Louis Neidmeyer, Phamils Hatfield, R. W. Monroe, Ethel Smith, Fred Willes, Alice Allen, Joseph Smith, Della Hodges, E. E. Allen, E. N. Theis, B. H. Blanchard, N. R. Feagins, W. W. King, E. E. Hyde, A. R. Swindle and little granddaughter, Edna Mae Hyde. Miss Dollie Willets, John Hodges and the honoree's daughter, Mrs. Stella Keene, all of Brea. Mrs. C. V. Swan and Mrs. G. A. Schafer, of Fullerton, daughter and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Stevens, also were guests.

Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. Lackey and Mrs. Swindle served fruit punch and cake during the afternoon. Needlework and pleasant social hours were enjoyed.

Address On NRA For Costa Mesa Chamber Oct. 25

COSTA MESA, Oct. 21.—The NRA, as it affects this community, will be the chief topic of discussion at a chamber of commerce meeting that has been arranged for next Wednesday evening, according to plans made Thursday night when the board of directors met in the Lions clubhouse. A speaker, whose name will be announced later, will appear on the program.

Fred Opp, Charles TeWinkle and Leroy Anderson were named as a committee on arrangements. It was also decided to choose a committee head on welfare work. The election of officers will be included in next week's activities. Old members, and others interested in community affairs, are urged to be present.

Fair Staged By Mesa Students

COSTA MESA, Oct. 21.—A fair, at which vegetables, fruits, flowers, toys, home sewing and school work were exhibited, and at which popcorn, lemonade, peanuts, cookies and candy were sold, was held recently by the fourth grade Library club of the Lindbergh school. Friends from Mrs. Cain's room were invited. Mrs. Pickenpaugh is the fourth grade teacher.

Those in charge were Dorothy Rea, Ben Slothower and Deborah Weaver at the popcorn stand; Beatrice Gillum, August Bendlin, Cecil Crane and Frances Coleman, cake and candy salesmen; and Lorraine Davis, George Swingle and Pat Healy, lemonade market. Library club officers are, Jean Withall, president; Frances Coleman, secretary; Warren Turner, treasurer; Betty Joe Ogil, hostess.

Superintendent Of School Speaks In La Habra Oct. 25

LA HABRA, Oct. 21.—"Desirable Relations of Church and School" is the subject which Frank A. Henderson, superintendent of schools in Santa Ana, will discuss at the meeting of the Methodist brotherhood Wednesday evening.

A 6 o'clock dinner will be served in the social hall of the church and the public is invited to attend. The program is in charge of Archie Cooklerly, the new president.

CENTER ORGANIZES HOME DEPARTMENT

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 21.—Members of the Garden Grove Farm center met in the Woman's Civic clubhouse Wednesday for the purpose of organizing a home department of the center. Mrs. L. A. Bortz, president of the county home department, gave a brief outline of what the home department of the county is doing and E. E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor, assisted in organizing.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. W. O. Broadly, president; Mrs. D. S. Jordan, vice president; Mrs. Charles George, secretary; Mrs. Genevieve Fording, publicity; Mrs. T. W. Clark, director; Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, Mrs. T. W. Clark, project leaders.

An announcement will be made later of the place and date of meeting.

CLUB ENTERTAINED

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Jeanette Riley was hostess to the Dinner Contract club in her apartment on El Camino Road Thursday evening. Mrs. Mabel Hymer, who will soon leave for an extended stay in the northern part of the state, was honored with a handkerchief shower. It was also her birthday.

The group included Mesdames Patti Divil, Mabel Hymer, Evelyn Felt, Edna Hauser, Nell Felt, Clare Hogeland, Genevieve Bostger and the hostess, Mrs. Riley. The club will meet next time with Mrs. Boettger in Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Geo. Gaylord Bridge Hostess

TUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Mrs. George Gaylord was hostess at a pleasant affair recently when she entertained a group of friends in her home on Pacific avenue. Flowers and other decorations carried out the Halloween theme.

The afternoon was devoted to bridge, with prizes for high and second high scores going to Mrs. Albert Thorman and Mrs. James H. Blee. A 1 o'clock luncheon preceded the card contest.

Those sharing the hospitality of Mrs. Gaylord were Mesdames Rena Bouchard, Albert Thomas, W. S. Leinberger, James H. Blee, Robert C. Kerff, Vincent Humeaton and Arthur Smith.

GARDEN GROVE BAPTISTS OPEN SERIES SUNDAY

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 21.—Plans have been made for Baptist week in the local church commencing Sunday and continuing for one week, every night at 7:30 o'clock with the exception of Saturday evening, according to announcement made today by the Rev. Elmer Lyon, pastor of the church. A number of out of town pastors have been secured for the different evenings. The entire community is invited to attend.

The program will be as follows: Sunday evening, Dr. Otto S. Russell, of Los Angeles, "State Work and Unified Budget"; Monday, "Home Missions"; Dr. Alonzo M. Petty, of Glendale Tuesday, "Foreign Missions"; Dr. Walter E. Woodbury, of Los Angeles; Wednesday, "Our Denominational Colleges"; Thursday, "Our Young People's Work"; the Rev. Oliver Cummings, of Los Angeles; Friday, "The Local Church and the Denominations"; Dr. W. W. Catherwood, of Riverside.

On Sunday morning, October 23, at 11 a. m., the Rev. W. R. Carter, of Los Angeles, will talk on the subject, "Negro Work," and in the evening Dr. Edwin R. Brown, of Los Angeles, will demonstrate his talk on "Our Spanish American Work," with slides. The Rev. Woody Hudson, of Montebello, will be song leader and soloist throughout the meetings.

P.-T. A. TO STAGE MEMBER CAMPAIGN

BUENA PARK, Oct. 21.—The first regular meeting of the Grand Avenue P.-T. A. was held this week with Miss Louise Albright, hospitality chairman, as hostess, at her home on Eleventh street. A 6:30 o'clock pot-luck dinner was served, followed by a short business session, with Mrs. Bertha Spolin, president, in charge.

Plans were made for the membership drive, which will be started this month. Prizes will be awarded to the rooms securing the largest number of members. The regular P.-T. A. meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at which time a play will be presented by students of Rolland Upton's 8th grade. It was decided to change the regular meeting in December from the fourth Tuesday evening to the third, because of the Christmas vacation.

Bridge and jigsaw puzzles furnished entertainment for the remainder of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Upton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hillman, Mrs. Pauline Henderson, Mrs. Bertha Spolin, Mrs. Edith Rayburn, Mrs. Eleanor Jones, Miss Katherine Smith and the hostess, Miss Albright.

Mrs. Geo. Gaylord Bridge Hostess

BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

Twenty Years A-Growing, by Maurice O'Sullivan, published by The Viking Press.

The charm of "Twenty Years A-Growing" is in its style more than its substance. The material of the book is the remembrance of a young man who had spent practically all of his childhood on the Great Blasket island, the largest of a group of islands northwest of Ireland. The Great Blasket is not more than five miles square and only had two hundred inhabitants. It is the only one of the Blasket islands which is inhabited. The boys of the island grew up and played and went to school much as other boys do, except that their adventures, to us, are colored by the unique style of living of a people who dwell on an island and speak Gaelic. The island is situated about three miles from the main coast of Ireland.

The book was originally written in Gaelic and the translators have done their work with great skill, for much of the charm which there would be to us in the original is preserved. It is the first translation into English of a genuine account of the life of the Irish peasants written by one of themselves.

The people are given to exclamations and witticisms. Their imaginations color their speech. "Your soul to the devil" is a common phrase. "If they were not praising her it is not day," we read at another place. "I could not but laugh inside my heart" is another. Another time we read about the window of the day now opening in the east. In referring to the rumors of war he says: Two sides of the world are likely to burst against each other at any moment. Another phrase: It is a wonder the soul didn't fall out of you.

The title of the book comes from the native division of the life of a man: "Twenty years a-growing, twenty years a-stopping, and twenty years declining."

There is poignant irony in the section where he told the experience with the literal backwash of the war. The two sides of the world had burst against each other and onto the shores of this little island was flung debris from the ships which were torpedoes. Everything they had need of, he tells us, was to be had from the top of the waves.

The book is one that will long be talked of and remembered. Dark Hazard, by W. R. Burnett, published by Harper & Brothers. This story of a sporting man and his wife who was unharmonious to his style of life and of Dark Hazard, the racing greyhound, is told in a simple, narrative style which exudes an air of breathless suspense.

Jim Turner at one time was a famous figure around the race track. In those days it was horse racing. He had been prodigal with money when he had it and "gouged" his friends for loans when his luck was against him. Then he married Marg and when the story opens we see a Jim who is trying to make himself over. This part of the book is particularly interesting from a psychological angle. Jim loves Marg and for her sake is trying to conform to her standards. A regular pay check is what Marg likes, not

Modern Poets

By MISS BEULAH MAY

BY BEULAH MAY

California is justly proud of the work of Harry Noyes Pratt: its simplicity, its craftsmanship and true poetic feeling. The following is from the autumn number of "Wings."

CREATIVE

Over the round hill plodding,
Dragging the heavy plow;
Laying a long red ribbon
Over the hill's bare brow—
A slowly lengthening ribbon
That clings to the horses' heels—
Crimson upon the emerald,
The sod-turned ribbon reels.

Who clutches the up-turned handles
And feels the crisp of the share,
Is one with the keen blade's whisper,
Severing the red earth there.
He is one with horse and plowshare,
He is with the blackbird's song,
And the rein that lies loose on his shoulder
Is never a binding thong.

Over the round hill plodding
With a song in his lyric heart,
His feet in the furrow treading,
Of the warm red earth a part—
He is one with the Great Vibration
Which is God in creative mood;
Knowing the soil of springtime—
Knowing that God is good.

War Vets Plan To Look After Needy

Charles E. Hyatt has been appointed as contact man to arrange for speakers to present Spanish War veteran matters to public forums and service clubs of Santa Ana by Calumet Camp No. 26, United Spanish War Veterans.

Appointment of C. W. Hannah and J. A. Randel as food collectors and administrators for the needy of Calumet camp this winter also has been made. Major A. F. Moulton gave a descriptive talk on his recent trip to Grand Canyon and Boulder dam.

THEATER LIFE MAYOR OF HELL DEPICTED IN OPENS SUNDAY BIG NEW FILM AT WALKER'S

With one of the greatest assembly of casts seen in a single picture in more than a year, "Broadway to Hollywood," great story of a single family's trail before the footlights from the old days of vaudeville to Hollywood's great showmanship, comes to the Broadway theater Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The stars who actually have important roles in the big production include Alice Brady, Frank Morgan, Madge Evans, Russell Hardie, Jackie Cooper, Eddie Quillan, Mickey Rooney, Jean Howard, Jimmy Durante, Fay Templeton, May Robson, Muriel Evans, Una Merkel and many others.

The story blends a heartbeat of human drama with the dazzling pageant of half a century in the theater. It goes from one generation to the other, with the showing going on all the time.

Many old song hits are revived, such as "Rosie Posie," as the picture moves from the days of Lillian Russell to the latest Hollywood production.

"TILLIE AND GUS" HERE NEXT WEEK

W. C. Fields and Alison Skipworth are seen together in "Tillie and Gus," their new comedy which comes to the Fox West Coast theater next Friday and Saturday.

Scores of Santa Anans who saw the picture previewed here several days ago will receive the announcement of its return here with pleasure, for those who saw it before will be among the first to see it again.

For sheer comedy, amazing situations and "dumb" dialogue, Fields and Skipworth were never better.

"LAST TRAIL" AT FOX WEST COAST

George O'Brien, who has made the famous Zane Grey picture such a tremendous hit on the screen, is seen in the principal role of "The Last Trail," latest Grey screen success which is now playing at the Fox West Coast theater.

El Brendel, comic, and Claire Trevor have the other important roles in the production. The picture, which opened here yesterday, closes its Santa Ana run tonight. It is the story of a band of eastern gangsters who meet their Waterloo when they attempt to "muscle in" on western territory—the land of the cowboys.

DECLARES NRA IS HINDRANCE TO AAA

Although asserting that the N. R. A. is working at cross purposes with the Agricultural Adjustment act, Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, expressed his belief in a bright outlook for Orange county farmers, in a talk delivered at the weekly Friday luncheon of the Lathrop Junior high school faculty.

Wahlberg explained how the A. A. A. was designed to raise prices of farm products, but that the N. R. A. by raising other prices, left the farmer as badly off as ever. He explained the farm relief program of the government through the Farm Loan banks and through handling of surplus crops.

"The plan by which the surplus crop is purchased by a tax on the grower is not dictatorial governmental control, but a way by which the grower can finance his own way," stated Wahlberg.

"The Mayor of Hell" starring James Cagney, comes to the Walker's State theater Sunday.

In this picture, a startling revelation of the cruelties practiced upon boys in a reform school, James Cagney has his finest and strongest role up to date. The picture is an intensely human document with pathos and tragedy intermingled and scores of thrilling incidents in the picturesque background of a reformatory where half starved boys revolt and battle tyrannical guards.

In the role of a ward healer the superintendent of the reform school as a political plum, Cagney finds himself thrust into an unbelievable hell. Through a young nurse with whom he falls in love, his interest in the plight of the boys is aroused and he proceeds to kick out the grafters and tyrants responsible for the abuses.

An unusually large cast of principal players and a group of 350 boys in the roles of reform school inmates, indicate the epic sweep of the film. Madge Evans has the leading feminine role. Boys who play outstanding parts are Frankie Darro, Farina, George Offerman Jr. and Sidney Miller.

LIFE IN TROPICS THEME OF MOVIE

"When Strangers Marry," the Columbia melodrama of the tropics, will be the attraction at Walker's State theater starting next Wednesday. Jack Holt is starred as a dynamic engineer who fights to finish a railroad and keep his wife in the exotic but deadly jungles of Java.

The story is one of mad marriage between two individualistic, high tempered people who find their love going to pieces under the wilting heat and dull monotony of a tropical sun.

Lillian Bond, beautiful young English-born star of various London and New York revues, attains her first leading role in "When Strangers Marry."

Trial of the suit of Mrs. May C. Paquette, as executrix under the will of the late Mrs. Ida E. Reed, against C. J. Eddleman, doing business as the Courtesy Cab company, Thomas G. Kirby, taxi-driver employed by the company and Elizabeth Morgan, has been continued by Superior Judge H. G. Ames until October 25.

Mrs. Paquette is suing the cab company, Kirby and Mrs. Morgan for damages totalling $5794.45 in connection with the death of Mrs. Reed.

According to the complaint Mrs. Reed received injuries from which she later died while a passenger in a Courtesy Cab driven by Kirby. The accident happened November 6 last at the intersection of Sixth and Bush streets when the cab, driven by Kirby and an automobile driven by Mrs. Morgan collided. Mrs. Reed died March 2, 1933.

MOVE TO LAGUNA
SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 21. — The Rev. and Mrs. Robert M. Hogart have moved to Laguna Beach, where they are occupying the rectory of the Laguna Beach Episcopal church. The Rev. Mr. Hogart has charge of the Episcopal churches of San Clemente and Laguna Beach.

COMING SUNDAY

Lillian Harvey, in her American screen debut with Lew Ayres in a scene from "My Weakness," new Fox production, which comes to the Fox West Coast theater Sunday for a three-day showing.

"ANN VICKERS" SHOWING

Walter Huston and Irene Dunn in a scene from the great Sinclair Lewis story, "Ann Vickers," which comes to the Broadway theater Sunday for a three-day showing.

LIPS INTRIGUE HIM

James Cagney, from the looks of things here, is intrigued by the lips of Madge Evans. They have the leading roles in "The Mayor of Hell," story of a boys' reform school, which opens at Walker's State theater tomorrow.

BROADWAY GETS LILLIAN HARVEY "ANN VICKERS" HERE SUNDAY IN FOR 3 DAYS 'MY WEAKNESS'

The screen version of Sinclair Lewis' great novel, "Ann Vickers," comes to the Broadway theater tomorrow to show for three days.

Those who have read the popular novel know what happens to a woman, a social service worker, who attempts to mix romance with a career, but to those who have not read it, the picture should prove striking entertainment, replete with drama, human interest and heart throbs.

Irene Dunn and Walter Huston are co-starred in the play, while others in the cast include Conrad Nagle, Bruce Cabot, Edna May Oliver and Sam Hardy. The story concerns a girl who has her own convictions about life and who has the courage to carry them out. Where these convictions lead her and the manner in which she is able to direct her life make the story one of the most absorbing the screen has seen in some time.

Aside from the feature, the theater also is offering "Meet the Champ," a Paramount comedy; "Cuba, Land of the Rumba," a musical, and "Fanny's Wedding Day," a cartoon.

Starring the much discussed new star, Lillian Harvey, in her American debut, "My Weakness," said to be one of the most brilliant screen successes of the year, comes to the Fox West Coast theater Sunday for a three-day engagement.

Rare comedy, beautiful girls, and a dazzling plot make "My Weakness" unusually good entertainment. Lew Ayres is the man in the film, while some of the best known dancers and singers in Hollywood are to be seen in the cast.

The story concerns a girl who overhears a man say that she could never be made attractive. She makes herself attractive in her own way and then goes from one conquest to another until she lands the man who made the statement.

Mary Howard, who really is Will Rogers' daughter, has a part in the film, while others in the cast include Charles Butterworth, Harry Langdon and Sid Silvers, as comedians.

Another episode of "Tarzan, the Fearless" is shown, together with "Down by the Old Millstream," a song cartoon, and a news reel to complete the bill.

DRAMA OF FAR WEST ENDS RUN TONIGHT

"Silent Men," the new Tim McCoy picture at Walker's State theater is causing much favorable talk among fans.

"Silent Men" has, in addition to the ever-picturesque setting of the western plains, a story that is unusual for this type of picture. It boasts a plot that builds thrill scene upon thrill scene to a forceful climax that comes as a complete surprise and which is never once hinted at in the telling of the story.

Florence Britton is the girl of the piece.

"WILD BOYS" ENDS SANTA ANA SHOWING

Persons who last night saw "Wild Boys of the Road," at the Broadway theater, were enthusiastic in their praise of this new type of entertainment. The picture ends its run tonight.

The story of what happens to young boys and girls when they run away from home, riding freight trains from one town to another and what becomes of them, is a human story that will appeal to every mother and father in the city.

"MORNING GLORY" COMING OCT. 27

"Morning Glory," latest screen success of Katherine Hepburn, comes to the Broadway theater next Friday and Saturday.

The story concerns a girl whose life is wrapped up in a stage career. Her many failures to gain success and her ultimate success after many disappointments make for a strong story and good entertainment.

The cast is exceptional. It consists of Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Adolph Menjou, Mary Duncan, C. Aubrey Smith and Don Alvarado.

Another great film story dealing with the life of the family physician is to be seen at the Fox West Coast theater Wednesday and Thursday of this week when "One Man's Journey" comes. Its star is Lionel Barrymore.

Too busy all the time looking after the interests of others, his own romance is allowed to lie dormant, but is taken care of by May Robson in a unique manner. Dorothy Jordan, Frances Dee and Joel McCrea also have good parts in the new production.

W. C. T. U. Workers Will Attend Convention In Hollywood

Mrs. T. L. Warren, 814 North Parton street, is completing arrangements to leave tomorrow evening for Hollywood where she will be present at the official board meetings to be held Monday in advance of the Golden Jubilee convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California, scheduled for October 24 to 27. Hollywood First Presbyterian church will be the scene of the convention sessions.

Mrs. Warren, as assistant recording secretary in the California association, plans to be present each of the four convention days, as does Mrs. Amy Evans, president of Santa Ana Union, who will leave Monday night or Tuesday morning for Hollywood. Other local workers who will attend the greater number of sessions include Mrs. Margaret Utt, Miss Emily Cox, Mrs. Pearl Kendall Heas and Mrs. Minnie Neville, president of Orange W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Eva Craven Wheeler, president, will call the convention to order Tuesday morning, and each day will see a special program in which ministers of all Hollywood churches will take part, and fine addresses and music will be heard. The Wednesday afternoon program on "Our Mexican Sisters" will feature special Mexican musicians and soloists, a children's chorus and hymns in Spanish and other interesting numbers.

The Golden Jubilee banquet will be held Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in Masonic temple with special program features. Thursday morning will bring the annual election. Mrs. Warren has held office in the state Union for the past 12 years, having been elected at a convention in Pomona in 1921.

Announcement is Made Of Marriage Rites In Baltimore

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mills Campbell, 2320 Bush street, today announced the marriage of their daughter, Catherine Campbell, to David J. Howell of Washington, D. C., the ceremony having occurred this morning, October 21, in Baltimore, Md., in the home of the bride's cousin, pastor of one of the Baltimore churches.

Mrs. Campbell left for the east a week ago, stopping in Denver, Colo., for a short visit with Mrs. Howell, mother of her fiancé, before continuing on to Baltimore to be met by her relatives and Mr. Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell will be at home after November, at the Broadmoor Apartments, Washington. Mr. Howell's work under Secretary of the Interior Ickes, is in connection with the re-opening of closed banks.

Ebell Sixth Household Section Observes Thrift Theme

Conforming to a "Thrift" theme, members of Ebell Sixth Household Economics section donned print frocks for attending their luncheon meeting yesterday in the clubhouse. Hostesses were Mesdames J. W. McCormack, Dana Smith and S. H. Finley.

After enjoying luncheon served at small tables brightened with chrysanthemums in autumn hues, members took part in a Thrift program. Papers on "Thrift, to Save or to Spend" were read by Mesdames S. M. Davis, John Harvey and H. T. Trueblood.

Mrs. G. E. Bruns, leader, presided over the meeting, attended by 27 members.

Couple to Make Home Here on Return From North

Choosing the Wee Kirk of the Heather in Glendale as setting for their wedding last night, October 20, Miss Elizabeth Patterson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Patterson of Long Beach and Carl Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Elliott of Orange, were united in marriage.

The picturesque little church was decorated with palms, ferns and many yellow chrysanthemums. The Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Orange, officiated at the ceremony, after appropriate organ selections.

The bride entered the church with her father, Dr. Patterson, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her pearl-trimmed gown of ivory satin and carrying lilies of the valley, sweet peas and roses.

Miss Geraldine Griner, maid of honor, wearing green silk net, and Miss Virginia Allen of Long Beach, bridesmaid, in peach silk net, had turbans and muffs to match their costumes. Their flowers were sweet peas, roses and lilies of the valley. Little Barbara Ann Muench, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muench, Orange, wore a flesh-colored net frock of ankle length as flower girl.

Cedric A. White of Long Beach, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man. David P. Patterson of Long Beach was usher and Cedric A. White Jr., ring bearer.

On their return from a honeymoon trip in the northern part of the state, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are to establish residence at 1239 South Broadway, this city. Mr. Elliott is manager of M. Elliott and Company. He is a graduate of Orange Union High school and Long Beach junior college. The bride is a member of Gamma Delta chapter, Sigma Alpha Delta sorority.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Veeh, Mr. and Mrs. George Dierker, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Blank, Mr. and Mrs. William Priess, Miss Wanda Priess, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fenne, Miss Alice Fenne, Mrs. Margaret Sackett, Herbert Ullrich, Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott and family, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muench, Mr. and Mrs. M. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Chastain, the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Patterson, Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Muench, Abilene, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Acheson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Escobar, Miss Mildred Escobar, Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. G. Schulte, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Will Patterson, Yorba Linda; Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Patterson, Dr. H. C. Patterson Jr., Miss Marcia Smith, Pasadena.

After Miss Dorothy Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Beckman of Santa Ana, in October became the wife of Darrell Dixon, son of Mrs. E. H. Henderson, also of this city, it was at a candle-light ceremony in the First Presbyterian church. Following a reception in the Paul Ragan home, the new Mrs. and Mr. Dixon left for their honeymoon, but are now returned and receiving friends in their home at 217 Buffalo street. Mr. Dixon is in the county tax collector's office.

In selecting an early September date for her marriage to William Jewett of Coalinga, the former Miss Winnie N. Pearson of Fullerton complimented her parents, Chief of Police James Pearson and Mrs. Pearson of the northern Orange county city, on their silver wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Jewett are making their home in Coalinga where the former is in the employ of an oil company.

Mrs. Frank Groover, one of the many charming September brides, was formerly Miss Olive Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dunn of Santa Ana. Following their marriage on the last day of September, Mr. and Mrs. Groover spent their honeymoon on an automobile trip through the northern part of the state, returning to make their home in Huntington Beach where Mr. Groover is in business.

Active and inactive members present were the Misses Alene Buck, Dorothy Tedford, Leonore Walker, Ruth Crowl, Betty Whitney, Norma Wilson, Joy McPhee, Jo Derigo, Erma Seaman, Evelyn Furtch, Marian Leiby, Frances Robinson, Kay Holmes and Miss Genevieve Humiston and Miss Dorothy Decker.

Junior Lions Dave Whitford as pledge master instructed pledges of Junior Lions to clean up the student center on the campus and gave them various other duties when members and pledges gathered Thursday evening in the home of Harry Clark, 1294 Greenleaf street.

It was decided to loan members sufficient money with which to purchase associated student tickets as it is now necessary for members of all clubs to own tickets. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening.

"Cubs" of the Lions are Jack MacFarlane, Stewart Meece, John Johnston, Charles Downie, Charles Kiser, Gerald Weston, John Henderson, Frank Lansdown, Carl Curtis, Donald Frank, Jack Pezues, Walter Krime and Tom Cole. Hostess Trio Evolves Original Plan for Gift Shower

Three hostesses, Mrs. Frederick W. Dean, Mrs. Alvin Rohrs and Mrs. Raymond Smith, conspired in happy plans for a party given earlier in the week in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Dean, 2439 Heliotrope Drive, complimentary to Mrs. W. J. Richardson.

The autumnal colors of leafy sprays, chestnut burrs, and deep hued blossoms, were apparent in all decorative appointments, including those of the late refreshment hour. For candles in deep rich shades, napkins with autumn leaves, and similar touches added charm to the menu of spicy gingerbread whose orange icing continued the color scheme noted also in the orange and brown mints and the amber coffee.

Guests spent the evening making quilt blocks, later presented to Mrs. Richardson. The pleasant feature of the whole affair was the shower of gifts for the honor guest. For the hostesses had devised a unique receptacle in the form of a gigantic head of cabbage. Its curled crepe napkins, concealing dainty layette gowns, recalled the favorite nursery tale that babies are found under cabbage leaves.

Sharing this pleasant evening with Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Rohrs and their guest of honor, Mrs. Richardson, were Mesdames Ray Boyd, Harry Pink, Edward Farmer, Earl Frovett, Burton Hagen, Charles E. Hayes, Harry Harlow, C. A. Harp, W. J. Hemmen, John James, George Lippincott, William Maryne, R. H. Martin, William Evan Owings, Leslie Pearson, Fred Sanford, Charles Spurrier, Darwin Scott, John J. Vernon, Walter Young, Neal Minter, Claude Minter and Ray Echols.

Party in Orange Given As Compliment to Mrs. Nason

Mrs. Howard Nason (Virginia Forney) of Tustin was complimented at a shower given last night when Mrs. J. U. Vlau and Mrs. William Fritcher joined as hostesses in their home, 325 South Orange street, Orange.

Litiged pink and blue tapers and bouquets of pastel-hued flowers formed a setting for the evening. Spent in playing hearts. Prize winners were Miss Dorothy Proctor and Miss Miriam Samuelson, who scored high and low.

Refreshments were served at small tables centered with pink tapers and appointed with baby shoe cutouts. Mrs. Nason then was presented with the many gifts which had been placed on a lace spread table centered with a large pink and blue baby shoe.

Taking part in the affair were the honor guest, Mrs. Nason, her mother, Mrs. D. M. Forney, and Mesdames W. A. Proctor, Lyle Forney, Dale Park and the Misses Dorothy Proctor, Roma Mayes, Lucille Swain, Miriam Samuelson, Carnelle Swain, Evelyn Carney, Veneta Vinu, of this vicinity; Mrs. Ethel Louderback, San Juan Capistrano; Mrs. Paul Owens, Los Angeles, and the hostesses.

College Press club members at a special meeting Wednesday evening, with George Farquhar, of Huntington Beach, made further plans for their student directory which is to be out soon. Plans were made also for a Halloween party to which all Press club members and guests are to be invited. Dessert Bridge Group Is Entertained for Afternoon

Entertaining a dessert bridge club of which she is a member, Mrs. Edward Walker was hostess this week in her home, 525 East Chestnut street.

Chrysanthemums in their bright soft colors were used to brighten the home, but the card tables, lavishly with their immaculate linens and pretty silver and crystal, were centered with bud vases of roses for the dessert course with which the hospitality opened.

In the succeeding bridge contest, Mrs. E. C. Erwin held high score and received first prize with second and third prizes going to Mrs. Howard Stone and Mrs. A. L. Hollinger respectively.

This particular group of friends meets at semi-monthly intervals and in two weeks Mrs. Erwin will be hostess in her home, 515 South Ross street.

Italian Refreshments
Complete Bridge
Evening

Miss Dorothy Dunbar extended a pleasant hospitality to members of her bridge club when she entertained Thursday evening in her home on South Garnsey street.

When bridge scores were checked on the clever parchment tables, it was revealed that Miss Miriam Samuelson held high, and Mrs. Clyde Higgins, second high. Each was awarded a dainty pack of note paper. Tables were then laid with checkered linens, and an Italian refreshment course was served.

In addition to the hostess, Miss Dunbar, were the Misses Alice Morris, Virginia Golden, Helen Demetrius, Miriam Samuelson, Mrs. Clyde Higgins and a special guest, Miss Emma-Iena Richards.

Girl Scouts
Troop No. 1
Several members of Girl Scout troop No. 1, led by Mrs. R. R. Rutelick, have just passed first tests in doing their first class work. They are Margaret Glockner, Jean Russick, Josephine Butler, Irene Noble, Lura May Kent and Mildred Kemper.

Jean McAuley, a member of the troop who assisted in nature study instruction at Camp Rockkill during the summer, is teaching bird lore to a class composed of Margaret Glockner, Lura May Kent, Jean Russick and Nancy Del Russell.

Members of the troop as a whole are making plans for their annual Halloween party to be held on the evening of October 27 at 206 East Fourth street.

Scout Leaders Meet
Meeting recently with Mrs. R. R. Russick, 1345 South Flower street, Girl Scout leaders of the city made plans for the local observance of National Girl Scout week October 29 to November 5.

Tentative plans were made for giving a public program at 2:30 p. m. on October 29 in Jack Fisherman park. Details of the entertainment are being arranged by the leaders and by the Girl Scout community committee.

Like Oak Patrol
Eighteen members and five visitors attended the latest meeting of Live Oak patrol of troop No. 4 held in First Methodist church. After general troop meeting, the group divided into patrols for other activities.

Plans were made for a Halloween party to be held Saturday, October 28, in the home of Mrs. George P. Ames.

College Press Club
Will Give Party

College Press club members at a special meeting Wednesday evening, with George Farquhar, of Huntington Beach, made further plans for their student directory which is to be out soon. Plans were made also for a Halloween party to which all Press club members and guests are to be invited. The home of Miss Valerie Almond at Costa Mesa will be the scene of the affair next Wednesday evening.

Surprise Party Marks Honor Guest's Birthday

Hostesses at a dinner party Thursday night Mrs. E. W. Crawford and Mrs. Leonard Coffman entertained in the latter's home in Tustin in celebration of the birthday anniversary of their daughter and sister, Miss Pauline Crawford.

This affair came as a surprise to the honor guest, who arrived at the Coffman home to find a group of her freshmen classmates at Tustin Union High school assembled.

After participating in contests, guests were seated at a table where a 6:30 o'clock dinner was served. Orange tapers, Halloween place cards, nut cups and a centerpiece of golden cosmos conformed to an orange and black theme. Bronze baby chrysanthemums and marigolds had been arranged throughout the rooms.

At the conclusion of the dinner menu, when a decorated cake had been served, Miss Crawford opened her birthday packages.

Those present were the Misses Elaine Smith, Ayako Okuba, Lila Adams, Muriel Hubbard, Irene Johnson, Marjorie Shoemaker and the honoree, Pauline Crawford.

Three Noted Artists
To Present Monday
Ebell Program

Music and its charms will be the program attraction for Ebell society members Monday afternoon, when Le Trio Charmant, Southland musical group that is receiving wide recognition, will be presented in Ebell auditorium in a most intriguing recital to follow the short business interval at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Charles V. Davis will conduct the club session, and will introduce the artists, Leslie Brigham, basso-cantante; Martin Ruderman, flutist; and Clarence Gustlin, pianist.

Monday's recital promises a marked variety and an unusually high standard of musical excellence. It will open with the piano numbers, "Melodie," by Gluck-Sgambati, and the Bach-Taustig "Toccato and Fugue in D Minor," also played by Mr. Gustlin, who also will close the program with a group of Chopin compositions, "Nocturne" from Opus 48; two Etudes, Nos. 1 and 7 from Opus 25, and a waltz from Opus 42.

Mr. Brigham will sing two groups, the first including "Polly Willis," by Arne; "She Is Far From the Land," by Lambert, and the aria, "O Tu Palermo, Terra Adorata," from Verdi's "I Vespri Siciliani." In his second group the soloist will sing "Smilin' Kitty O'Day" (Torrence); "London Girl," by Snodgrass, and "The Green-Eyed Dragon," by Charles.

Flute numbers by Martin Ruderman will include "Bagatelle," by Flisshman; "Ronde," by Desportes, and "Bolero," by Pessard. The flutist, like Clarence Gustlin, pianist, is far from a stranger to Santa Ana audiences. He has had a gratifying success in Los Angeles and the Southland, both as a soloist and in ensemble work. Naturally a local audience needs no information regarding the ability of Clarence Gustlin, whose musical talent has enhanced so many programs here in his home community.

Leslie Brigham, bass soloist, promises to be a completely satisfactory addition to this brilliant musical trio. A native Angeleno, he made his Southland operatic debut at Hollywood Bowl in Aida, followed by several important roles with the Los Angeles Civic Opera company. Prior to this he had spent two years abroad, studying and singing in opera in both Italy and France.

Bridge Club Group Assembled for Dinner

An informal bridge club which meets in several Southland cities including Eagle Rock, Beverly Hills and Los Angeles, as well as Santa Ana, was entertained this past week by the Santa Ana members. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Harrison, 2109 Greenleaf street.

Club members arrived for an enjoyable dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Harrison were hosts in advance of the evening's play. The dining room was charmingly decorated with flowers and candles. The Santa Ana members, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Harrison, 2109 Greenleaf street, among their guests, substituting for Los Angeles friends who left recently for New York.

Y.W.C.A. News Notes

Wrycende Maedgenu Club
Miss Druilla Mackey, county Americanization worker, will be speaker at the supper meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Business Girls Tuesday evening, on "Hallowe'en Customs of Old Mexico." Following the supper program and continuing the workshop projects of the groups, Miss Helen Glancy, instructor, announces that the handicraft group will start on the making of Mexican pottery tiles. The music group will continue work on the Mexican folk songs and will have some new material.

Mother's Night Out
Another interesting evening of recreation is being planned for the "Mother's Night Out" group of the Y. W. C. A. for next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. L. B. Brown, Mrs. M. G. Krebs, and Mrs. Kenneth Haas are to be hostesses.

Senior High Girl Reserves
Impetus to the growing interest in Russia of the Senior High School Girl Reserve club was given the members Monday evening when Mrs. B. F. Givago, Russian nationality worker at the Los Angeles International Institute, spoke on her experiences in Russia during the early days of the revolution. Following this discussion, the girls are to have the opportunity of discussing in smaller groups the Russian situation and the effect it has had upon all classes in Russia. These groups are to be led by Wilfred Taylor, president of the Santa Ana Council of International Relations, and Mary Burke King of the Santa Ana Register. The regular studio workshops will continue following the discussion meeting.

Ione Hoover, president of the senior high school club announces the appointment of LaVonne Frandson as chairman of the social department, and plans are under way for a Hallowe'en party that she and her department under the leadership of Miss Mary Schofield are planning. Definite announcement of time and place will be made next Monday night at the regular meeting.

Interclub Council
Ruth Baker, newly elected chairman of the Interclub Council announces November 10 as the date set for the formal Recognition ceremony of the Junior High School Girl Reserves of Santa Ana. This ceremony will take place at the Y. W. C. A. and Ruth Baker will conduct it. All Junior and High School Girl Reserves are to take part in it.

L. G. R. Hallowe'en Party
Interesting plans are under way in the L. G. R. club of Willard for the annual Hallowe'en party of this group of Girl Reserves. The party is to be in the barn belonging to Ruth Lockett. Committees reporting at the meeting of the club on Friday afternoon made the prospects for the party sound very interesting. Miss Wilma Hoy and Miss May Haysenager are working with the girls in the preparations for the event.

Membership Committee
The membership committee, of which Mrs. P. F. Schrock is chairman, is to meet Friday at 10 a. m. in the Y. W. C. A. room. Other board and committee women are invited to join with the group at 11 a. m. for a discussion of topics to be brought up at the Southern California seminar November 21 and 22 at Riverside. Women are invited to bring paper bag luncheons. Tea and coffee will be served.

Parent-Teachers

Woodrow Wilson
Children of Woodrow Wilson school conducted a penny drive this month for the Student Loan fund, and turned over the sum of two dollars and fifty-three cents to Miss Joanne Eilers, P. T. A. treasurer, to be added to the school contribution to this fund. Executive board members of the Wilson association are entertaining the teachers at dinner and bridge tonight in the home of Mrs. H. R. Hendrie.

THE IMPORTANT BOLERO EFFECT

PATTERN 1634
By ANNE ADAMS

Smart women looking for that new line in vogue this season will know the advantage of a bolero-effect frock. It really does slenderize the hips so much, and softens the curve of the bustline. This model adopts a flattering tie for neckline detail, smooth sleeves, and offers a delightful medium for the popular new fabrics. Velvet, satin or ribbed silks are good in dark rich colors.

Pattern 1634 is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 takes 3 1/4 yards of 39 inch fabric and 7-8 yard contrasting fabric for lining.

Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

The smartest Fall and Winter styles, the newest fabrics, hints on harmonious colorings and jewelry, how to knit a smart sweater, gifts for the kiddies, last minute fashion flashes—these are among the fascinating items in the NEW FALL AND WINTER EDITION OF THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK. THIS BOOK WILL HELP YOU SAVE MONEY. ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY! PRICE OF CATALOG FIFTEEN CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Arraignment of Jesus Pena and Mrs. Sylvia Delsie Ybarra, accused of murdering Frank Mendoza, last Halloween night at Delhi, had their arraignments continued until next Friday when they appeared yesterday before Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Pena was granted his continuance yesterday morning when his attorney W. M. Burke asked for additional time in which to enter a plea. The Ybarra woman, at the morning session asked the court to appoint an attorney. A. L. Launer of Fullerton was named and the case continued until next Friday.

Oswald Stock, accused of a misdemeanor, non-support of a minor child, was granted a continuance of two weeks and was released on his own recognizance. J. N. Harvey, attorney for Stock, indicated that within two weeks his client believes that he will have so arranged his affairs that support will be provided for his child. Harvey said that Stock's arrest was the outcome of a recent divorce.

REVIVAL BEGINNING ITS SECOND WEEK

"The Black Horse and His Rider" will be the subject of the evangelist, Bert Todd, of Columbus, S. C., at the Foursquare Gospel Tabernacle tomorrow, according to the Rev. D. F. Myers, pastor of the church.

The Rev. Mr. Todd, former Baptist preacher and evangelist of wide experience, will be in charge. He has been in the ministry for 25 years, speaking in every state of the Union as well as Canada.

It will be an opportunity to hear a man of unusual spiritual power, says the Rev. Mr. Myers.

The revival is now beginning on the second week and the crowds are gradually increasing. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Meetings will be held every night at 7:30 o'clock except Saturday. The church is located at Fairview and Sycamore streets.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Paul In Asia Minor

Text Acts 13:1-5, 13-15; 14:19-23.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 22.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of The Congregationalist

Our lesson describes the beginning of what is now known as Paul's first missionary journey. We have already seen Paul at Antioch where he had been brought by Barnabas from Tarsus. The Christians at Antioch had raised contributions for the relief of the distress of their needy brethren at Jerusalem, and they had entrusted Paul and Barnabas with these gifts.

When the two disciples returned from Jerusalem to Antioch, there came the very clear call to them to launch out on a missionary campaign that would take them through Asia Minor. The whole church at Antioch apparently supported them in this venture. Their going was celebrated with fasting and prayer, and leaders in the church at Antioch had laid their hands on Paul and Barnabas, consecrating them to their task.

A young man named John, a nephew of Barnabas, accompanied them as their attendant. This is a matter to note well as John, or John Mark as he is better known, became an occasion of contention between these two fine missionaries.

Also, whatever ground there may have been for Paul's criticism of him on this occasion, John Mark became later one of those great and important figures to whom the church owes so much. It was he who gave to the world the story of the life and teaching of Jesus that we call the "Gospel of Mark."

No study of the missionary journeys of Paul can be satisfactory that does not follow the movements of the missionary apostles on the map. Traced in this way, one can readily appreciate the amount of territory that they covered and the naturalness of their course.

As one follows the map the journey will appear as both by land and sea. They came first to Salamis, in the island of Cyprus, and passing through the island to Paphos, set sail to the mainland of Asia Minor, landing at Perga, in Pamphylia.

Here we are told that John Mark left them, returning to Jerusalem, and though there is no indication of the cause of his going back, the later record shows that Paul considered John Mark's return in the nature of a dissonance, or a turning back from the cause in which he had enlisted. Even later he felt so strongly about the matter that he separated from Barnabas, when about to begin another journey, because Barnabas insisted that his nephew should go along.

One can easily underestimate or overestimate the nature and importance of such quarrels in the progress of noble causes. In some respects we may rejoice that the Bible reveals so much of human weakness even in great and good men.

If in every detail they had been

was born this week, in 1757. He helped the colonists so much, in the Revolution, that they named an automobile after him. Jack Pershing repaid that debt somewhat along about 1918. And the U. S. paid back some few billions more in cold cash. But getting money out of a Frenchman is something like getting the value out of a washing-machine. And I expect we'll get our loan back from France about the time a washing-machine actually delivers a wet-wash for less money than it costs to have it done here. You and I won't live to see either event happen.

COME to CHURCH

MINUTE STORIES from the BIBLE

Copyright, 1932, by Grosset & Dunlap—Released by V-P Service

MOSES went yet a second time upon Mount Sinai to commune with Jehovah. As the days passed and he did not return, the people gathered before Aaron, complaining: "Make us some gods to go before us, for we know not what has become of this Moses." So Aaron commanded the wives and the sons and the daughters to tear off their golden earrings, which he melted and cast into a sacred calf of pure gold. Then the Israelites built a great altar before the calf, and celebrated a long feast with burnt sacrifices and peace offerings. After the prayers and the feasting were over there followed much singing, dancing, and revelry. This was displeasing to Jehovah and he said to Moses: "Descend from the Mount, for thy people are corrupting themselves." When Moses drew near to the camp of his people he heard the music and saw the golden calf on high. In hot anger he seized the idol and hurled it into the fire, then ground it to powder and scattered it to the winds. When he had finished he challenged the Israelites: "Who is on the Lord's side? Let him stand near to me!" All of the Sons of Levi gathered around him. Led by Moses they waged war upon the idolaters, cutting them down with the sword, even neighbors and brothers. So Jehovah punished the worshipers of the Golden Calf which Aaron had made.

[The story of the Golden Calf is from the Old Testament - Exodus - Chapter XXXII]

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Said Doty, "This is something new. It tastes to me like rabbit stew." "That's what it is," said Scouty. "I have eaten this before. This has, however, the best taste of any I have had. Don't waste a single bit. Clean up the bowls and then we'll have some more."

"That's right," exclaimed the Medicine Man. "Go on, and eat all that you can." And so, for about a half an hour the Tinymites slipped away.

"Now, let's wash dishes," Goldy cried. "Don't anybody run and hide. We each will wash our own bowl. Then we'll have some fun at play."

"Where is the dish pan? Bring it out!" And then they heard an

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

When girls quarrel, they often start from scratch.

Indian shout, "Why, we wash dishes in the stream. We scrub them with some sand. 'It makes them clean as clean can be. Come on, you Tinymites, follow me.' He led them to the water and the washing turned out grand."

"And now," said Scouty, "I suggest that we all do our very best to show this tribe of Indians that we've liked what has been done."

"They've been real kind and generous, too. There must be something we can do." One Indian cried. "Build us a wigwam. 'Twill be lots of fun!"

"We'll get long sticks. I'll show you how." "All right," said Windy. "Start right now." And soon the sticks were gathered and the Tinymites worked away.

The sticks were propped up nice and straight. "Gee, it's beginning to look great," cried Coppy. "Where's the covering? We'll finish it today."

"We'll use these skins," the Indian said. "Just spread them out. Then go ahead and wrap them 'round the sticks. Be sure that they are pulled real tight."

The Tinymites all grabbed a hold of skins and did as they were told. The wigwam soon was finished and it was a pretty sight.

PATERNALISM VS. STUDENTS

Norman Thomas, who speaks here on Tuesday evening, is to be the main speaker at a banquet arranged by the students of the Junior college. We understand that this banquet is open to all those who desire to hear the speaker, and that Mr. Thomas is coming here without expense to the students, as he debates here in the lecture course the same evening.

The students were denied the opportunity of hearing Mr. Thomas in their assembly at eleven o'clock of the day he comes to address the evening forum. It is declared that this action was taken because of opposition which developed, from a certain American Legion group, to his being permitted to speak before the students in the assembly.

Norman Thomas is recognized by thinking men as possessing one of the finest minds of any man in this country. He is a graduate of Princeton University, entered the Presbyterian ministry, and in late years has made his livelihood out of his addresses and books. He sustains, in his personal character as well as in his intellectual genius, an outstanding reputation of the highest order. Those who have read his two recent books "As I See It" and "The Way Out" were surprised after the inauguration to recognize that many of the schemes he advocated there were being put into operation by President Roosevelt. It seemed that the President had "stolen the thunder" of this socialist leader. Some of the steps in the President's program have actually been more radical than anything Mr. Thomas advocated in those books. Norman Thomas has lectured throughout the country probably on as many if not more college platforms than any other well known citizen. Certainly he has addressed more college audiences and delivered more commencement addresses than any other living candidate for the Presidency on any party.

It is unfortunate that the junior college students of this community should be treated in this paternalistic manner. It breeds resentment. It aggravates whatever radical tendencies are in embryo. The students are not "permitted" to listen to one of the ablest men in this nation, a man who has several times been a candidate on the Socialist party ticket for President and who has been a leader in most of the civic movements in New York City. If our students were in almost any other college in the country they could listen to Mr. Thomas and others like him as a part of their normal training and intellectual development. But here in our Junior College, they are treated like children, and are told that they must listen only to what is good for them to hear, and "what is good for them to hear" is not determined by their instructors or their professors but by outside forces, some of which are entirely unfamiliar with the man and his message. The order denying the students the opportunity to hear Norman Thomas defeats its own purpose for who ever saw a youngster who did not want to do the thing which he was forbidden to do? And just in proportion to the determination of the person curtailing the activity of the young person the one being circumvented wants to do the thing he is prevented from doing.

Boys and girls of college age are intolerant of paternalism. By their years they feel they have earned the right to form independent judgments. It isn't any wonder that the youth want to break away from Junior college and do not consider it a real college at all. These students are preparing for life's labors, where they must meet all sorts of problems. They have already had their high school training. They are supposed to be in college, at the threshold of manhood's estate. They are being trained to seek truth; to be able to discern it when they see it; to separate truth from error, but still an effort is being made to surround them by the protecting arm of paternalism that they will not hear alleged "error," so as to be able to exercise the functions of their own brains.

Is this because we have no faith in our instructors? Are the foundations of discernment so poorly laid, or truth so difficult of understanding that they cannot be trusted to hear the presentation of acts concerning one of their chief studies in the schools? Is somebody afraid that after listening to the statement of a man, who himself is university trained, and who has always stood for the best that is in society, aside from his economic views, that the teachers of the young men will not be able to show them how to test out whatever error there is in the argument? Would it not be better for the young man, as he is about to enter life, to listen under circumstances where he can be taught to examine and discard, than where he is unprepared because of the excessive protection he has received during his formative years for the arguments and attitudes he will meet when he is no longer protected.

Or is the real reason an attempt is being made to deny the student the privilege of listening to such a man, the fear that the man is upon the foundations of truth, and is presenting logical arguments on such foundation, that the young men will recognize it as a flood of light upon the serious problems of our life and espouse the cause? Is the real fear the same fear, that has caused the crucifixion, the inquisition and the suffering of the pioneers? In other words do the protectors fear the young people will recognize in Mr. Thomas another who has discerned great truth?

COUNTY'S FUTURE RESTS WITH WATER BOARD

The new water district provided for by legislative enactment is about to begin functioning. Its first election was held on Wednesday and the seven directors elected by the voters. There was not over 40 per cent of the total eligible vote cast, but this is not to be wondered at, for in several of the districts there was no contest for director. Two of the newly elected directors are connected with water companies. These water companies have been very active in certain programs in the county.

We believe that this water district is one of the most important, if not the most important, economically speaking, organization that has been developed in the county for many years. Its planning will determine the future of Orange county. Conducted in a broad and statesmanlike manner, having in mind the value of all sections of the county, and the permanency of values, it will mean the underwriting of Orange county's future.

It is to be fondly hoped that from the very beginning, in the very organization of the board, and on through its deliberations and activities, the people of the entire county will be kept in mind. We believe that an analysis of the vote would show that three-quarters of the voters are impressed that it is unwise, in the interest of the people who are drawing water from the Santa Ana basin, to permit the continued spreading in the upper Santa Ana, or to extend it. Should the board be organized recognizing this fact, it would tend to enlist the interest of the people in the cities surrounded by this district, and might lead to their joining the district. This would be particularly true if water could be found available in sufficient quantities to supply the overdraft which is now being made upon the underground basin. The purposes for which the district was organized, and the powers granted it, permit the district to obtain water for the district.

Orange county's future depends upon an available, constant water supply. All other things can be corrected by the activities of the people living within Orange county. If this is not available, everything else would fail to accomplish the purpose. The directors have a solemn and important obligation to perform. The interests, not only of those actually within the water district, but the people in municipalities not so included, are almost entirely within their hands.

Exiled Culture Direct Loss to German People
Riverside Enterprise

German Professors and scientists who have been driven from Germany by the Nazi drive against Jews, pacifists and Marxists are being welcomed to the faculties of colleges and universities and to research laboratories in many lands. Exiled writers can write anywhere, and doubtless will continue to express their thoughts by means of the printed word wherever they go.

It will be a little harder for exiled German actors to make their way in other lands unless they are skilled in those languages. However, the Duke of York's Theater in London has recently been turned over to German-Jewish theater artists who will present a season of plays. The productions will be in charge of a famous German producer who is said to rank second only to Max Reinhardt in ability. It remains to be seen whether the theater will succeed financially, however good its work may be artistically. At least the hospitable gesture made at London and the courage and enterprise shown by the German actors are commendable.

And how will Germany itself feel about having so many of its best educators teaching in foreign lands, its scientists working in foreign laboratories, its actors performing in foreign theaters, its musicians and painters and other welcomed in many different capitals? It is one thing to kick out people whose race or politics do not harmonize with those of the government in power. It is quite different to be deprived of the service, entertainment, art and knowledge they have to offer and to see those same gifts enriching other cultures.

Two Greatest
Christian Science Monitor

Who is the world's greatest aviator? Authorities differ. Especially the two outstanding authorities, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh answers, "Commander Kingsford-Smith." Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith says, "Colonel Lindbergh."

The world knows these two men too well to put down their expressions as mere Alphonse-and-Gaston courtesy. Their deeds are made greater by their modesty. One of the truest tests of greatness is the ability to appreciate the accomplishments of others in one's field. Sincerity in this instance is attested by the fact that the judgments were not spoken for purposes of publication, but confided to a mutual friend.

The continuing exploits of these two fliers are the more wholesome in their public effect because they refute the supposition that such success and fame are but the product of chance. The recent record flight of Commander Kingsford-Smith from England to Australia would have been achievement enough if it had been easy sailing. But his log-book discloses that he battled not only winds but also physical difficulties and loss of sleep during several days of the journey. Unsparring determination is evidently as much a factor in his successes as is the known technical thoroughness of Colonel Lindbergh.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe once was reminded of the controversy current among German critics as to whether he or his close friend, Johann Schiller, was Germany's greatest poet and dramatist. Said Goethe, "Germans should not waste their time in such disputations, but rather be grateful they have two such fellows."

More Truth Than Poetry

DEFER JUDGMENT ON 'EM

When Ethelred sasses the neighbors,
When he loafs in the haymow all day,
When neglecting all errands and labors
He wastes golden hours in play,
His father is sad and downhearted
And his mother is loud in her wail;
They think that their offspring has started
On the way to reform school or jail.

When the boy, in the words of his teacher,
Who has come to complain of the lad,
Is a quite disagreeable creature
Who will probably go to the bad,
His parents are dreadfully troubled
As the willful young scapegrace they scan,
And their efforts are promptly rebuffed
To make him a good little man.

When Ethelred gets into college
And, instead of securing good marks
And constantly seeking for knowledge,
Engages on frivolous larks,
His progenitors sit by the fire
Enshrouded with worries and fears,
His father a figure of ire,
His mother in sad bitter tears.

Perhaps I am not so discerning,
My theories all may be vain,
But I've found that devotion to learning
Isn't always a test of a brain.
By the time that the urchin is ready
To lay off the days of real sport,
He may grow more sober and steady,
And turn out a pretty good sort.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

GAINS AND DANGERS WAR IN ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

Without knowing it, perhaps, Dr. Herbert C. Clark, director of the Gorgas Memorial Laboratory in the Panama Canal Zone, addressing the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons this week, vividly illustrated the nature and source of the problems that beset the Roosevelt leadership just now. The problems that grip us all are problems of progress, not problems of decay. The footsteps of progress are always dogged by new problems that the fact of progress itself breeds. The best of new developments throw off new dangers as by-products.

The desirable development of rapid air travel between North, Central and South America and the new dangers that have come in its trail is a case in point. "New speed in communication demands new safeguards against the spread of contagious diseases," said Dr. Clark, commenting on this point. "It has been shown to be possible for a mosquito to be brought from Central America in a cabin plane, even when the plane travels at a chilling altitude of 18,000 feet. It is also possible for persons exposed to disease in the tropics to be set down in the United States by plane before the period of incubation is completed and symptoms of the disease have had time to develop."

The desirable new development of air travel linking the Americas thus brings new dangers that require a new protective vigilance upon the part of authorities and the working out of new quarantine regulations to meet the new conditions.

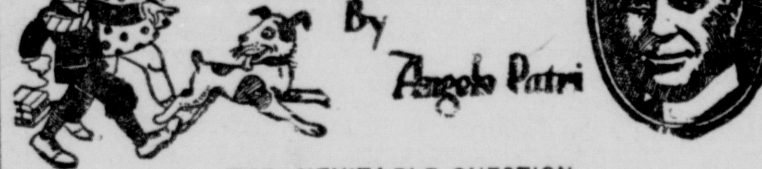

The analogy of this runs throughout the problems confronting the Roosevelt administration. Science and technology have created a new world that is fluid rather than fixed, swift rather than slow, interdependent rather than independent. Individuals can no longer go it alone as they once could. Nations can no longer stand alone as they once could. Even the most private of private businesses becomes in such a world a public concern.

Mr. Roosevelt is by ancestry, temperament and training anything but a radical. He would never, in my judgment, be moved on purely theoretical grounds to advocate an increasing socialization or publicizing of the nation's enterprise. But Mr. Roosevelt is sensitively aware of this fact—that science and technology have given us this new world in which all persons and all powers touch elbows, a world in which the principle of "the good neighbor" is good business, a world in which neither business, nor labor, nor industry, nor finance can pursue policies in disregard of the others. No one yet knows what this new fact of universal interdependence will mean in the way of the reorganization and redirection of our society.

The imperative necessity is that all of us pitch in and cooperate wholeheartedly in facing this new fact.

Our Children
By Angelo Patri

THE INEVITABLE QUESTION

Every child asks his mother where he came from. Some children inquire about this very early. They have a keen curiosity about life and everything that pertains to it. They want to see all that can be seen and hear all that can be heard and when their powers fail they fall back on their elders' infallible wisdom.

When a little child asks, "Where did I come from," his question is on a footing with all his other questions. It has the same root as his "What makes the sun shine?" "Where does God live?" "Can He see right through the house?" "Can He see through a stone?" "What makes dogs have four legs?" "Why can't I take my teeth out? Grandpa can."

Mothers meet these questions with admirable poise and patience. They answer them as fully and as correctly as they can in relation to the child's power of understanding. They consider then childish ignorance and curiosity. But the moment a child asks, "Where did I come from," the mother is agitated. Her mind is filled with fear. The terrible thing has happened. The innocent child has eaten of the fruit of the tree of knowledge. How can he be saved? Her first reaction, unless she has been trained to meet the inevitable question, is one of defense.

"Who put that idea into your head? Who's been talking to you about such things?"

"Nobody. I put it into my own head. Where did you get me, mother?"

That question must be answered. The answer must be truthful and as complete as the understanding and experience of the child will allow. The cabbage garden or the stork won't do. Neither will the doctor's black bag. If any such false answer is given the child knows that he has been put off. Something has been hidden from him. There is a secret and he has been closed out. He will find it out if it costs him a foot and he keeps on asking his question until he finds a more responsive audience. That won't take him very long. There are many children ready and anxious to impart the knowledge they have painstakingly gained from whatever source available. To be sure the information is fearfully garbled and the child is bound to be confused and troubled by it. But he will get his question answered.

Answer it yourself. Tell him the answer in the fewest and simplest words at your command. If you do not know how, and it is possible, for the past generations were not trained and taught about sex as they should have been, go to some reliable source like the Social Hygiene Association, and ask for the books and pamphlets that they supply at small cost.

The information is accurate. The methods of imparting it are set down so that anybody who can read can master them. Each mother must tell the story in her own way, and according to the manner of child she has. But the story must be told, truthfully, cheerfully, without hesitation or false shame. When this is done the child is started right. His attitudes on the matter will be healthy. This is extremely important because upon his attitude toward sex a large part of his success in life must depend.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
